Spock, Three Others, Found Guilty Of Conspiracy; To Appeal

BOSTON (AP) — Baby doctor Benjamin Spock, Yale University Chaplain William Sloane Coffin Jr., and two others have been convicted of conspiracy to counsel young men to evade the draft. A fifth defendant was acquitted.

"My main defense," Spock said, "was that I believed a citizen must work against a war he feels is contrary to international law. The court has decided to feel differently."

After the conviction Friday night by an all-male federal jury, Spock's counsel, Leonard Boudin, and defense attorneys for the other three said there would be an appeal to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. The four men were expected to carry their appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court, if necessary, as part of their opposition to the Vietnam war.

Convicted with Coffin and the 65-year-old pediatrician were Michael Ferber, 23, a Harvard graduate student, and Mitchell Goodman, 44, a writer and teacher from Temple, Maine.

Marcus Raskin, 34, a Washington research director, was found innocent by the jury after seven hours and 20 minutes of deliberation. The trial began May 20 and lasted four weeks.

Raskin walked from the 12th floor courtroom in federal courthouse, his head down and tears in his eyes.

"I feel very good for myself," he said in a choked voice, "and badly for the others."

Raskin's lawyer, Calvin Bartlett, maintained during the trial that Raskin was not part of any conspiracy and barely knew his co-defendants.

U.S. District Judge Francis J. W. Ford ordered Spock and the other three freed in personal recognizance until sentencing on July 10. They face maximum sentences of five-year prison terms and $10,000 fines.

The jury, in a list of findings on specific charges made in the indictment, found that Spock and the other three conspired to counsel, aid and abet Selective Service registrants to refuse or evade duties under the Selective Service Act.

"My belief has always been," Coffin said, "that the issues we wanted to bring before the court were never argued. That's the legality and constitutionality of the war and the draft. Perhaps the appeals level is the place to do it."

Business Spurt Bolsters Case For Tax Raise

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's economy heated up again in May with a net effect of sustaining the administration's case for its anti-inflationary 10 per cent income surtax.

The surtax, linked to a $6-billion spending cut for fiscal 1969, is expected to reach a vote in the House next week.

The Federal Reserve Board reported Friday that after an April dip, production of factories, mines and refineries last month reached a record 169.7 per cent of the 1957-59 average.

This was a five per cent jump over last year.

Retail sales increased one per cent after an April dip caused by big-city riots that followed the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The retail volume was still below the March record, but eight per cent above the previous year.

Jobless Low

The board noted that the rate of unemployment—another major indicator of a taut economy—remained at the April level of 3.5 per cent, lowest since 1953.

The peak in industrial activity was attained largely because of greater output of consumer goods, including automobiles, and of industrial materials.

Auto assemblies rose 10 per cent from the April level and were at an annual rate of 9.4 million vehicles.

Output of most other consumer durable goods remained unchanged from the April figures.

The wholesale price index rose slightly further than the retail index, with higher prices for farm products and foods offsetting an estimated 0.2 per cent decline in industrial commodities.

Inventories Rise

The Commerce Department also reported a sharp increase in business inventories in April. They rose $1.3 billion, about 3½ times the monthly average increase in the first quarter of this year.

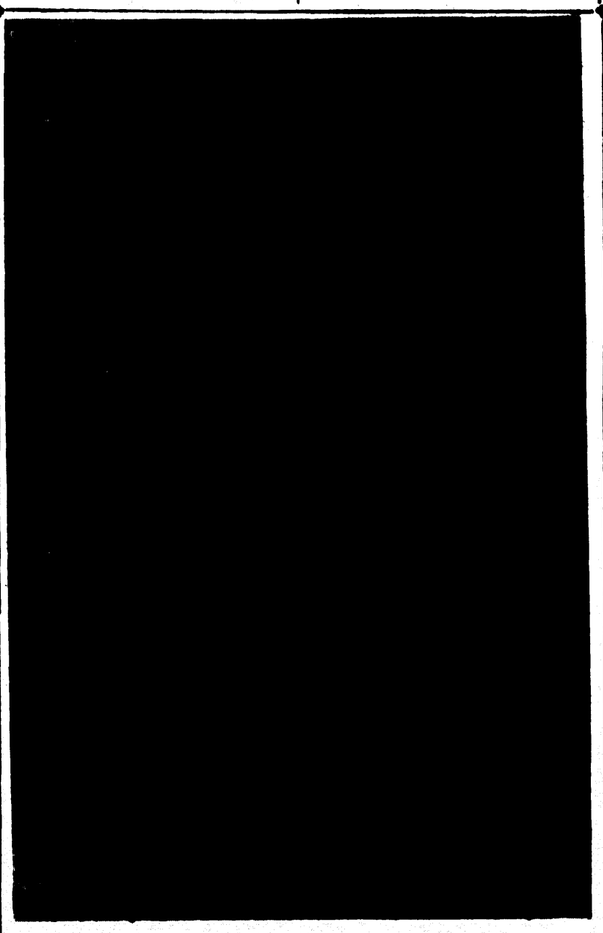

New orders to manufacturers declined about 1.5 per cent.

The inflow of new orders, however, continued to exceed shipments with unfilled orders on factory books rising $600 million in April. By May 1, the Commerce Department said, the backlog of unfilled orders was $84.1 billion, up $7 billion from the year earlier.

The net effect of the rise in the thermometers of business activity has been to bolster warnings issued by the administration and Reserve Board members that inflationary pressures will intensify to the point of portending financial crisis unless Congress cools off demand by enacting the tax-spending package quickly.

Paris Talks Still Are Stalemated

PARIS (AP) — At the end of five weeks, the peace talks between the United States and North Vietnam rested on dead center today. Neither side showed any sign of making a concession that could break the stalemate.

The next meeting between Ambassadors W. Averell Harriman of the United States and Xuan Thuy of North Vietnam is scheduled for Wednesday following a week-long recess.

Since last Wednesday's meeting, which produced another round of argument over how to de-escalate the war, Thuy and his delegation have been silent, but claims of military victory and eventual triumph for the North Vietnamese cause continue to be heard from Hanoi.

The latest came Friday from Defense Minister Vo Nguyen Giap in an interview with the Algerian newspaper El Moudjahid. Giap was quoted as saying the battles now going on in South Vietnam are comparable to the battle of Dien Bien Phu in 1954 in which his forces defeated the French.

U.S. officials believe the stream of victory claims coming out of Hanoi in recent weeks may be designed in part to boost the fighting spirit of the Communist forces in the South. They also believe the verbal barrage is aimed at convincing world opinion that the United States and its allies are losing the war and should therefore negotiate a surrender in Paris.

The issue on which Harriman and Thuy have been deadlocked from the beginning is North Vietnam's demand that the United States stop all attacks on its territory and the U.S. counterdemand that North Vietnam must also scale down military operations.

Although some other topics have been introduced, virtually all the arguments made by Harriman and Thuy in the past five weeks have revolved repetitiously around this initial issue.

Griffin's Mail For Gun Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., said Friday his mail is running better than 12 to 1 in favor of stronger gun control legislation. Griffin said this represents a sharp reversal over the tone of gun control letters received prior to the assassination of New York Sen. Robert Kennedy.

Allies Hunt, Smash Rocket Sites

SAIGON (AP) — American B52 bombers pounded Viet Cong infiltration routes around Saigon with 150 tons of bombs today, as the enemy shelled several cities and allied positions and ground forces engaged in sharp clashes.

The rolling thunder of the 500-pound bombs was clearly heard in the capital as the bombers made two strikes about 20 miles northwest of the city.

Twenty enemy mortar rounds hit the southern fringe of Saigon, wounding two policemen and six South Vietnamese civilians. About 60 Chinese-made 107 mm rockets struck the Bien Hoa airbase 15 miles north of Saigon, but U.S. spokesmen said they inflicted no casualties or damage.

Fight In Suburbs

Associated Press photographer Dang Van Phuoc reported sharp fighting in suburban Gia Dinh, where South Vietnamese troops tried to root out guerrillas in bunkers. He said the irregulars failed to dislodge the enemy. A South Vietnamese lieutenant was killed and two American advisors were among 17 wounded.

A government spokesmen said South Vietnamese paratroopers killed 30 Viet Cong and suffered three wounded in an engagement through a string of hamlets five miles northeast of Saigon.

Forty-eight North Vietnamese regulars were killed in two actions near the demilitarized zone.

Marines Kill 21

Marines of the U.S. 26th Regimental Landing Team counted 21 bodies after repulsing an enemy charge on their night position southwest of Da Nang. Three marines were wounded.

Near the South China Sea, other U.S. Marines pinned down a band of North Vietnamese and the cruiser USS Boston was called in to shell the enemy position. A U.S. spokesman said 27 enemy soldiers were killed.

While allied troops fanned out within the enemy's seven-mile rocket range of Saigon looking for firing sites, enemy gunners zeroed in on supply points, training camps and civilian targets.

Base Is Hit

The U.S. Marine command reported that 22 of the enemy's 122 mm rockets hit the supply base northwest of Da Nang, inflicting light to moderate damage. Fifty artillery rounds inflicted light damage on the Cua Viet supply point six miles below the demilitarized zone.

Infantry training centers at Quang Ngai and Chau Doc were mortared and light casualties were reported. Mortar rounds also slammed into the Quang Ngai City airport, killing one civilian and wounding 20 others.

At Can Tho guerrillas fired four mortar rounds into a rice mill, killing four civilians and wounding four others.

Camp Raided

A Viet Cong party raided the Vinh Tho refugee camp 15 miles south of Da Nang and abducted 60 persons after setting fire to 20 tents. A U.S. spokesman said the civilians presumably would be used as a labor force.

North Vietnamese shore batteries fired on the Australian destroyer Hobart and the American destroyer Chandler when the two warships shelled a highway bridge 11 miles southeast of Dong Hoi. Neither vessel was hit.

U.S. officials said allied soldiers searching for rocket sites around Saigon have found more rockets than have been fired at the city. Since Jan. 30, they said, about 287 rockets have hit the city, and in the same period allied forces have found 204 of the six-foot rockets in enemy ammunition caches.

De Gaulle Frees Algerian Rebels

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle moved today to heal some of the wounds that have weakened French unity by pardoning former Gen. Raoul Salan, former Col. Antoine Argoud, both of whom were serving life sentences.

Salan and Argoud once were among the brightest figures in the French army. Then they turned against De Gaulle by opposing Algerian independence. They were leaders of the Secret Army Organization which sowed terror in Algeria and France to back their dreams of keeping Algeria under French control.

The Elysee Palace announced no one now remains in prison for events concerned with the Algerian war.

Mich-Con Strike Deadline Tonight

DETROIT (AP) — A strike looms against Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. in its service areas of northern and western Michigan at midnight tonight when the contract expires with the International Chemical Workers Union, the company reported.

In the event of a strike, the company said there should be no interruption of gas service.

The utility said a strike, if it happens, would involve less than 10 per cent of its employes.

Negotiations were continuing in Grand Rapids in an effort to reach a new pact between the company and the union.

A spokesman said the company is prepared to maintain essential services to its customers, with supervisory and other nonunion employes taking over essential functions if a strike is called.

"Normal gas supplies will be maintained to all customers, domestic and industrial, and we will answer all emergency service calls," the company said.

Unions involved are Local 70, which represents 81 employes in the Muskegon district; Local 132, representing 238 workers in the Grand Rapids area; and Local 799 which has 141 employes in the Upper Peninsula and the northern half of the Lower Peninsula.

Most of the employes are gas distribution workers, service men, meter readers and crews employed in the maintenance of underground gas lines.

The company has 4,663 employes in its service areas from Detroit to Iron Mountain, but only the workers in Grand Rapids, Muskegon and areas of the Upper Peninsula and parts of northern Lower Michigan are involved in the present strike threat.

Gun Curbs Gain Senate Backers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six senators who opposed a ban on mail order sales of rifles and shotguns only a month ago now favor it, one saying "violence and terror" changed his mind.

The switch in position by the six became known Friday when the administration bill introduced Wednesday was printed and with it the names of 29 Senate sponsors.

The list included Sens. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., Hugh Scott, R-Pa., William Proxmire, D-Wis., Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, and A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla.,—all of whom voted in May against an amendment to ban sale of all guns through the mail.

That amendment failed and the gun control legislation that was finally adopted—as part of the omnibus anticrime bill—governs only mail order sales of pistols and revolvers.

The new administration bill represents another attempt to bring rifles and shotguns under the same regulation. It also would prohibit over-the-counter sales of such weapons to persons under 18 or to nonresidents of the state in which the seller does business.

Magnuson's change of heart holds special significance for the new measure since he is chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, one of two Senate committees to which the bill has been referred.

It was not the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy that prompted his turnabout so much as "the violence and terror surging through the streets of every city and every state," Magnuson told the Senate.

"This has become a matter of deep conscience," he said.

Magnuson said he is even ready to back compulsory registration and licensing of all firearms. If state and local jurisdictions won't take the responsibility, federal action is called for, he said.

Magnuson said he will do all in his power to get the bill out of his committee without delay.

But the measure also must pass through the Senate Judiciary Committee, where its chances are not as bright. Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., the chairman, has been an opponent of attempts to stop mail-order sales of rifles and shotguns.

Service

International Chemical Workers 70, 132 and 799, representing Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. workers in Muskegon, Grand Rapids, northern Lower Peninsula and the Upper Peninsula, will strike the company at 12:01 a.m. Sunday, it was announced by a union spokesman today.

Orville Morrison, Escanaba area manager of Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., said that 13 U.P. men in Menominee, Delta, Schoolcraft, Alger and Marquette counties will be affected. He said that supervisory personnel would maintain continuous gas service to the company's customers in this area.

Now in Front; He's Ignoring Call To Debate

Aides of former Vice President Richard M. Nixon say he will not accommodate his rival for the Republican presidential nomination, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, by giving him a good target.

"There won't be any confrontation, there won't be any debating," a Nixon man said Friday at the Republican governors' conference in Tulsa, Okla.

If Nixon has decided on a strategy of keeping away from his opponent and resting on his current string of primary victories, Rockefeller will have to catch up by shadow-boxing, a difficult way to attract attention.

Rockefeller has been issuing challenges to Nixon almost daily in recent weeks, urging him to meet him anywhere, anytime for debate. But the front-runner has turned a deaf ear to these taunts.

Moves Not Planned

Nixon's aides said Friday his next moves are not plotted.

"The schedule right now is up in the air," a lieutenant said.

The Tulsa meeting so far has proved totally unproductive of leads as to how the Republican governors feel about the prospective nominees.

The meeting has drawn 20 of the 26 GOP governors, but bringing them together has demonstrated only that as a group they do not constitute a unified force.

Their inability to unite behind a candidate matches their unwillingness to reach agreement on specific platform recommendations to forward to the Republican national convention.

Instead of recommending that the convention take this position or that position on the various issues, the governors accepted the fact of their diversity and adopted a resolution merely urging the convention platform to "draw heavily" on the research the governors assembled.

Red Berlin Threatens Unpleasant Surprises

BERLIN (AP) — With new threats rumbling out of East Germany Bonn authorities today planned ways to pressure the Soviet Union into stopping East Germany's slowdown of traffic to West Berlin.

Mention of "new and unpleasant surprises" from East Berlin spurred the West German government into seeking talks with allied governments on ways to ease the newly imposed travel restrictions—including the possibility of threatening to refuse to sign the U.N. treaty to check the spread of nuclear weapons.

The treaty, passed Wednesday by the U.N. General Assembly, was drafted jointly by the United States and the Soviet Union.

Observers believe a threat to not sign it would push the Soviets into action with its East German ally because Moscow has voiced strong objections to a nuclear armed West Germany.

Refusing to sign would leave the door open for the West Germans to arm themselves at any time.

Traffic out of Communist-surrounded West Berlin was slowed again today by the new visa restrictions imposed by the East German regime Thursday. Police said the traffic jam started before dawn and cars were lined up for up to four miles on the West Berlin side of the East German border waiting to be processed through an autobahn crossing point.

West Germany called home its ambassador to Moscow on Friday. The move coincided with an editorial in the official East German Communist party newspaper, Neues Deutschland, warning that "there willl be new and unpleasant surprises" for West Germany as long as it refuses to recognize the East Berlin government.

Chancellor Kurt George Kiesinger summoned Ambassador Helmut Allardt for discussions that could deal with trading West Germany's signature on the nuclear weapons treaty for withdrawal of the new East German travel restrictions.

In past years, West Germans have been allowed to go to West Berlin through Communist territory with their identity cards but, under the new regulations announced Tuesday, must now pay a $1.25 visa fee and will have to obtain passports by July 15. The East Germans have also imposed new taxes on goods shipped between West Germany and West Berlin.

A spokesman said the company is prepared to maintain essential services to its customers, with supervisory and other nonunion employes taking over essential functions if a strike is called.

"Normal gas supplies will be maintained to all customers, domestic and industrial, and we will answer all emergency service calls," the company said.

Unions involved are Local 70, which represents 81 employes in the Muskegon district; Local 132, representing 238 workers in the Grand Rapids area; and Local 799 which has 141 employes in the Upper Peninsula and the northern half of the Lower Peninsula.

Most of the employes are gas distribution workers, service men, meter readers and crews employed in the maintenance of underground gas lines.

The company has 4,663 employes in its service areas from Detroit to Iron Mountain, but only the workers in Grand Rapids, Muskegon and areas of the Upper Peninsula and parts of northern Lower Michigan are involved in the present strike threat.

Gun Curbs Gain Senate Backers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six senators who opposed a ban on mail order sales of rifles and shotguns only a month ago now favor it, one saying "violence and terror" changed his mind.

The switch in position by the six became known Friday when the administration bill introduced Wednesday was printed and with it the names of 29 Senate sponsors.

The list included Sens. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., Hugh Scott, R-Pa., William Proxmire, D-Wis., Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, and A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla.,—all of whom voted in May against an amendment to ban sale of all guns through the mail.

That amendment failed and the gun control legislation that was finally adopted—as part of the omnibus anticrime bill—governs only mail order sales of pistols and revolvers.

The new administration bill represents another attempt to bring rifles and shotguns under the same regulation. It also would prohibit over-the-counter sales of such weapons to persons under 18 or to nonresidents of the state in which the seller does business.

Magnuson's change of heart holds special significance for the new measure since he is chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, one of two Senate committees to which the bill has been referred.

It was not the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy that prompted his turnabout so much as "the violence and terror surging through the streets of every city and every state," Magnuson told the Senate.

"This has become a matter of deep conscience," he said.

Magnuson said he is even ready to back compulsory registration and licensing of all firearms. If state and local jurisdictions won't take the responsibility, federal action is called for, he said.

Magnuson said he will do all in his power to get the bill out of his committee without delay.

But the measure also must pass through the Senate Judiciary Committee, where its chances are not as bright. Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., the chairman, has been an opponent of attempts to stop mail-order sales of rifles and shotguns.

Service

International Chemical Workers 70, 132 and 799, representing Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. workers in Muskegon, Grand Rapids, northern Lower Peninsula and the Upper Peninsula, will strike the company at 12:01 a.m. Sunday, it was announced by a union spokesman today.

Orville Morrison, Escanaba area manager of Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., said that 13 U.P. men in Menominee, Delta, Schoolcraft, Alger and Marquette counties will be affected. He said that supervisory personnel would maintain continous gas service to the company's customers in this area.

Red Berlin Threatens Unpleasant Surprises

BERLIN (AP) — With new threats rumbling out of East Germany Bonn authorities today planned ways to pressure the Soviet Union into stopping East Germany's slowdown of traffic to West Berlin.

Mention of "new and unpleasant surprises" from East Berlin spurred the West German government into seeking talks with allied governments on ways to ease the newly imposed travel restrictions—including the possibility of threatening to refuse to sign the U.N. treaty to check the spread of nuclear weapons.

The treaty, passed Wednesday by the U.N. General Assembly, was drafted jointly by the United States and the Soviet Union.

Observers believe a threat to not sign it would push the Soviets into action with its East German ally because Moscow has voiced strong objections to a nuclear armed West Germany.

Refusing to sign would leave the door open for the West Germans to arm themselves at any time.

Traffic out of Communist-surrounded West Berlin was slowed again today by the new visa restrictions imposed by the East German regime Thursday. Police said the traffic jam started before dawn and cars were lined up for up to four miles on the West Berlin side of the East German border waiting to be processed through an autobahn crossing point.

West Germany called home its ambassador to Moscow on Friday. The move coincided with an editorial in the official East German Communist party newspaper, Neues Deutschland, warning that "there willl be new and unpleasant surprises" for West Germany as long as it refuses to recognize the East Berlin government.

Chancellor Kurt George Kiesinger summoned Ambassador Helmut Allardt for discussions that could deal with trading West Germany's signature on the nuclear weapons treaty for withdrawal of the new East German travel restrictions.

In past years, West Germans have been allowed to go to West Berlin through Communist territory with their identity cards but, under the new regulations announced Tuesday, must now pay a $1.25 visa fee and will have to obtain passports by July 15. The East Germans have also imposed new taxes on goods shipped between West Germany and West Berlin.

Farm Bureau To Study Changes In Agriculture

What changing conditions are ahead for Michigan agriculture? How can family farm units adapt to professional management? What is a reasonable return on investment for farmers? Are there areas of research of particular value to farmers, but important also to all citizens?

These are some of the questions which will be explored by a blue-ribbon committee of Michigan Farm Bureau members, named by President Elton R. Smith this week. Their task is to determine how the big Michigan farm organization can anticipate changing agricultural needs, and what programs will be effective in serving its membership.

Seventeen top leaders of the organization, representing various commodities and farming interests, have been named to the state-wide committee. In the group are a number of Outstanding Young Farmers, including Robert Buist of Allendale, selected this year by Michigan Jaycees as the state's Outstanding Young Farmer, a title held in previous years by three other committee members. Robert Zeeb of Bath, 1962; Franklin Schwiederson, Dafter, 1961; and Dean Pridgeon, Montgomery, 1956.

Smith said, "There is no question but what farming will continue as a major factor in our nation's economy. It will be dominated, in the immediate future, by changes in technology—new planting and harvesting patterns, increased use of automation, the demand for new and more varied products, and by new and expanding marketing programs."

Outlining Farm Bureau's role he added, "We have a responsibility to assist our farmer-members in adapting to these changes."

One major responsibility of the committee will be to evaluate present Farm Bureau programs and to analyze which might be expanded or altered to meet changing needs. New programs to fit a fast-moving agriculture will be proposed and examined.

Only Upper Peninsula member of the committee is Franklin Schwiederson, Route 1, Dafter, for 9 years Chippewa County Farm Bureau president, school board member for 8 years and president for 8, and secretary of the ABA. He and his wife, Barbara, and their four children operate a 360-acre dairy farm.

July 5 Finale On Vote Signup

A radical liberalization of Michigan's voter registration act has been given immediate effect by the Legislature and signed by the governor.

"In the past," said Secretary of State James M. Hare, "all registration was closed for 30 days prior to any election. When a community had several elections, one after another, registration could be closed for months.

The present act allows a qualified citizen to register at almost any time and, if it is too close to an up-coming election, the clerk — village, township, or city — wil give the person a written notice telling him on what date he will be eligible to vote.

Now you can register at any time other than a Sunday, legal holiday, or election day.

To be eligible for a specific election, you must be registered at least five Fridays prior to that election.

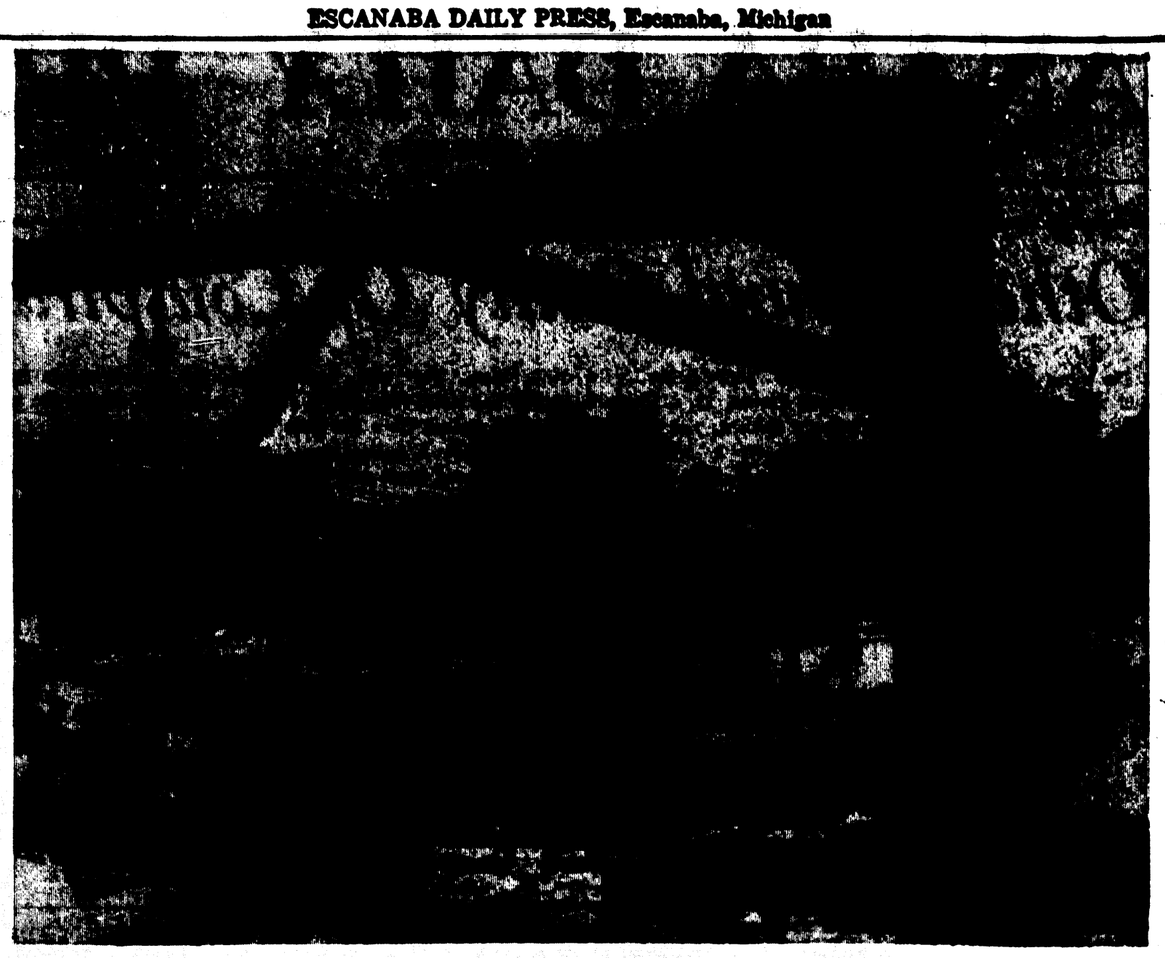

The registration deadline for the Aug. 6 primary is July 5, Deadline for the Nov. 5 general election is Oct. 4.

Persons who have voted in the last two years do not have to register unless they have moved in that time.

Concert Saved By Piano Tuner

SOUTHPORT, Conn. (AP) — The call, "Is there a piano tuner in the house?" was answered Friday night at a concert of the Southshore Music Club when the humidity apparently caused the string for E above middle C to snap under the fingers of pianist Andrew Wolf.

Frank Dillingham stepped forth from the audience after the broken string had interrupted Bach's Partita No. 1 in B flat minor. While Wolf and the audience were treated to punch and cookies, Dillingham used an improvised tool to replace the string and the concert continued.

Girl Scouts Camp Out At Wells Park

Girl Scouts of troop 23 went on a three day camping trip to Wells Park June 11, 12 and 13. Their leaders, Mrs. Robert McDonnel, Mrs. Bob Bero and Mrs. Fern Dupey were assisted by three senior scouts, Joan McDonnel, Catherine Priniski and Pat McMonagle. The girls slept in round-up tents and planned, prepared and served their own meals in patrols.

The girls enjoyed an alphabet hike, treasurer hunt, scavenger hunt and the highlight of the camp-out was an invitation from troop 73 of Marquette, to participate in their evening activities.

The girls hiked from the Park to the group campground where the Marquette troop was camping and joined a game of kick-ball and were judges in a Hippie Contest put on by the Marquette troop. After a lively songfest the girls were served refreshments and proceeded back to their campsite.

Erlandsen Will Seek Old Post In Legislature

Einar E. Erlandsen today announced his candidacy for state representative from the 107th District, which includes Delta County and parts of Schoolcraft, Luce and Chippewa counties.

Erlandsen, a Democrat who served in the State House of Representatives for 18 years, was born and schooled in Escanaba. Before his election as state representative, he was employed by the Escanaba Paper Co. where he was president of Local 209, International Brotherhood of Papermakers. He was also an organizing member and manager-treasurer of the Escanaba Paper Co. Employes' Credit Union for seven years.

Committee Chairman

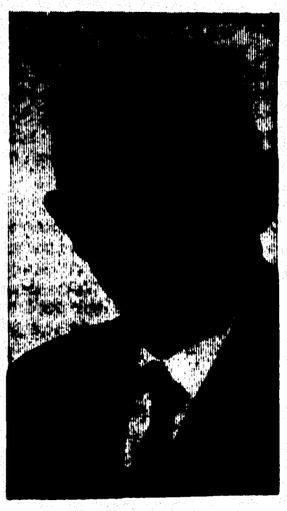

He married Rose McMahon of Ford River in 1933 and they have one son, Leon, who resides in Keokuk, Iowa, where he is a chemist with the Hubinger Corn Refinery.

During his service in the Legislature, Erlandsen was a member of the House Education Committee and was widely consulted by other members on school legislation. He was also a member of the House Appropriations Committee, which he headed in 1965-66.

Seeks School Aid

Erlandsen stated that his decision to seek a return to the Legislature was motivated primarily by his concern over the critical financial plight of the schools, because of failure of recent efforts to increase millages for school purposes. Erlandsen said he feels that his lengthy legislative experience would help obtain for the schools substantially increased state aid.

He also believes that his work in providing incentives to industry would be useful in attracting additional industry to the district, with resultant employment opportunities. He has urged that the tax base in some counties like Schoolcraft, Luce and Chippewa should be broadened by the return of unused state-held lands in those counties to private ownership and the tax roll.

Einar E. Erlandsen

Earlier this week, Erlandsen was mentioned as a possible legislative representative for Upper Peninsula school districts.

Upper Peninsula school superintendents have proposed hiring a part-time lobbiest to work in Lansing on legislative matters of interest to U. P. school districts. Supt. Luther M. Barrett in discussing the proposal with the Escanaba Area Board of Education said Erlandsen had expressed interest in the position at an annual salary of $6,250.

Districts would be assessed $150 plus a per pupil fee. About 30 districts would be needed to implement the proposal.

The Escanaba Area Board of Education because of its current financial problems and services rendered by the Michigan Association of School Boards indicated it did not wish to participate in the program.

The 107th District is now represented by Charles Varnum (R-Manistique) who defeated Erlandsen in the 1966 election. Varnum's announcement of his candidacy for a second term is expected next week.

From 1943 until 1960, he served as a pastor at churches of the Lutheran faith in Minnesota, Illinois and Ohio. In 1960 he was appointed to his present position.

Ask Draft Ban On Dead's Kin

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Congressman Philip Ruppe (R-Mich.) this week introduced legislation to prohibit sending a serviceman to a combat area when an immediate member of his family has died while serving in the armed forces in Vietnam.

Ruppe said he decided to draft the legislation when he received a letter from a mother who lost one son in Vietnam only to be faced with the prospect of another son already in the service being sent to Vietnam.

"I strongly believe our manpower pool is large enough", Ruppe said, "to supply adequate troops without asking a single family to sustain two or more of these tragic losses. While we are all prayerful that the present negotiations in Paris will lead to lasting peace, we should not forget that our men are now suffering the heaviest losses of the war. The casualty lists seem to grow larger with each passing week."

The Ruppe bill provides that no member of an armed force may be assigned to active duty in an area in which the armed forces are engaged in combat, unless he volunteers for such duty, if his father, brother or sister was killed in action or died in the line of duty during service in Vietnam. The bill gives the President the ability to suspend its provisions if he finds manpower requirements are critical.

There is precedent for this bill in that there is a military directive which allows a young man to apply for a one year deferment from duty in Vietnam when an immediate member of his family has died as a result of duty there.

"We also have a Public Law allowing military exemption for the sole surviving son of a family when another male member of the family has died as a result of hostile action." said Ruppe. "There is also a military regulation which prohibits a young man from being sent to a combat zone if a brother or father is already fighting in such an area. However, when a young man has been killed in Vietnam there is nothing to prevent his brother from being shiped to a combat area. In fact, the practice seems fairly common."

Shipping Season Extension Urged

SAULT STE. MARIE—Congressman Philip Ruppe, in an address to the annual meeting of the Great Lakes Commission, said that the Great Lakes are not being fully utilized. Ruppe said that the shipping season, now only about eight months, should be lengthened to 9 or even 10 months.

Ruppe said that the Great Lakes shipping season could be lengthened by establishing a guaranteed closing date of Dec. 15. This would eliminate the danger of ocean ships being trapped in the lakes for the winter months. Ruppe added that the Coast Guard is developing new icebreaking methods with the use of uplift bows and that studies are underway to determine which channels and passages freeze first and what can be done to delay the freeze-up.

Ask Draft Ban On Dead's Kin

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Congressman Philip Ruppe (R-Mich.) this week introduced legislation to prohibit sending a serviceman to a combat area when an immediate member of his family has died while serving in the armed forces in Vietnam.

Ruppe said he decided to draft the legislation when he received a letter from a mother who lost one son in Vietnam only to be faced with the prospect of another son already in the service being sent to Vietnam.

"I strongly believe our manpower pool is large enough", Ruppe said, "to supply adequate troops without asking a single family to sustain two or more of these tragic losses. While we are all prayerful that the present negotiations in Paris will lead to lasting peace, we should not forget that our men are now suffering the heaviest losses of the war. The casualty lists seem to grow larger with each passing week."

The Ruppe bill provides that no member of an armed force may be assigned to active duty in an area in which the armed forces are engaged in combat, unless he volunteers for such duty, if his father, brother or sister was killed in action or died in the line of duty during service in Vietnam. The bill gives the President the ability to suspend its provisions if he finds manpower requirements are critical.

There is precedent for this bill in that there is a military directive which allows a young man to apply for a one year deferment from duty in Vietnam when an immediate member of his family has died as a result of duty there.

"We also have a Public Law allowing military exemption for the sole surviving son of a family when another male member of the family has died as a result of hostile action." said Ruppe. "There is also a military regulation which prohibits a young man from being sent to a combat zone if a brother or father is already fighting in such an area. However, when a young man has been killed in Vietnam there is nothing to prevent his brother from being shiped to a combat area. In fact, the practice seems fairly common."

Shipping Season Extension Urged

SAULT STE. MARIE—Congressman Philip Ruppe, in an address to the annual meeting of the Great Lakes Commission, said that the Great Lakes are not being fully utilized. Ruppe said that the shipping season, now only about eight months, should be lengthened to 9 or even 10 months.

Ruppe said that the Great Lakes shipping season could be lengthened by establishing a guaranteed closing date of Dec. 15. This would eliminate the danger of ocean ships being trapped in the lakes for the winter months. Ruppe added that the Coast Guard is developing new icebreaking methods with the use of uplift bows and that studies are underway to determine which channels and passages freeze first and what can be done to delay the freeze-up.

Rural Lettermen Convene Sunday

Michigan's old friends, the rural letter carriers are convening in Escanaba Sunday for their 66th annual convention at the State Office Building and House of Ludington.

The busy three-day convention program shows that the Michigan Rural Letter Carrier's Association has problems, too, growing pains are among the most troublous ones.

Arthur P. Brien of Escanaba, convention chairman, said that there are 1,150 rural letter carriers in Michigan and that about 125 of them will be attending the convention here. There are 65 rural carriers in the Upper Peninsula.

Biggest problem of the carriers is the heavy duty mailiem for the rural carrier, too. routes, which burden carriers with such expanding mail loads that they have great difficulty coping with it to provide good service. When people move from the core city to the suburbs, they not only create problems of city taxation and renewal, they also create a heck of a problem of providing them with postal service.

Rural Carriers

City post offices like Escanaba operate so-called "mounted routes" in their fringe areas where distances are too great for the letter carrier who walks his route. These mounted route deliveries are made by Post office Department-owned trucks to boxes set up by the householders along the mountcd route. These mounted postmen are not rural carriers.

The rural carriers — there's one out of the Escanaba Post Office — Arthur Brien, and one out of the Gladstone Post Office, Tony Belongie — operate their own cars on their routes and are paid 12 cents a mile and wages.

Brian's route is 83 miles long and has 600 families on it. Some rural routes are only 20 miles, some are over 100 miles, some have only 175 families and some have nearly 1,000 families.

Box Holder Mail

"Junk" mail is a problem for the city carrier, and it's a problem for the rural carrier, too. Those near metropolitan areas are plagued by box holder mail which goes to every box. In the Upper Peninsula the carriers are apt to have only four or five box holder deliveries a week, but in an area like Lansing or Detroit they may have 6 or 8 in one day.

The Ladies Auxiliary will be meeting with the Rural-letter Carriers Association. Officers of the Association are Francis P. Laura, president, Flat Rock (Lower Michigan); Roy Demongey, vice president, St. Charles; Byron H. Whitney, secretary, Silverwood, and Basil L. Jankowski, treasurer, Maple City.

Registration will be from 4 p.m. in the State Office Building lobby Sunday, and there will be a memorial service at 8 p.m. in the House of Ludington and a reception there at 9 p.m.

Brien Presides

Brien will call the convention to order at 9 a.m. Monday in the State Office Building and greetings will be extended by Leo Knauf, Bark River, president of the Upper Peninsula RLCA, by Escanaba Mayor Cecil Chase, Escanaba Postmaster James Pryal, and Mrs. Edward LeBeau, president of the Upper Peninsula Ladies Auxiliary.

The Monday afternoon session will hear Joseph Evans, chief, Distribution and delivery, Vehicle Service Brand, Chicago Regional Office of the Post office.

The banquet session Monday evening at 6:30 at the Ludington will hear a problem forum with Evans, Leon Hopkins, vehicle service branch officer, Chicago; Rial M. Rainwater, treasurer of the National Letter Carriers Asociation of Oklahoma, and state officers of the RLCA.

Junior Program

Hopkins will address the Tuesday morning session and the carriers and Auxiliary will have their joint banquet at 6 p.m. Tuesday at the Ludington when new officers will be installed.

The Junior Organization of the RLCA is also meeting here, with its own program, including a trip to the Hannahville Indian Reservation Monday afternoon and a picnic that evening, horseback riding on Tuesday afternoon and a picnic that evening and movie program.

The Ladies Auxiliary program includes several joint sessions with the RLCA.

Bark River Legion Post Elects Officers

At the Monday evening meeting of the Rheaume-Knauf American Legion Post 438, Willard Severinsen was elected commander for the ensuing year. Serving with him will be: First Vice Commander John Krause, Second Vice Commander Leo Knauf, Third Vice Commander Kenneth Taylor, Adjutant Loyal Hanson, Finance Officer Edward Motto, Historian Viola DeBen, Chaplain Philip Norman, Sergeant at Arms Francis Perron, Service Officer Henry W. Boyle.

Officers will be installed at a joint meeting Monday, Aug. 12 at the Legion Hall.

Final plans were made for the July 4th parade and celebration. Frank Adams is general chairman, Leo Knauf, parade chairman; Joseph Langlois, games; Ray Meyers, pop, ice cream; ladies's auxiliary, food; Ronald Hurtibese, refreshments; Paul DeBen, prizes; Bernard Kleiman, fireworks.

There will be a free dance for teen-agers during the day at the hall, with street dancing all day and an evening dance in the hall.

The Legionnaires joined the ladies for lunch, which was served by Mesdames Louis Westlake, Donald VanEnkevort and Betty Olson.

Airport Given $18,000 Extra

Escanaba Airport has been granted an additional $18,000 to bring the Federal Aviation Authority grant to its jet airliner service development project to $150,000, U. S. Senator Philip A. Hart announced today in Washington.

FAA said the improvement would extend the main runway of the airport from 5,000 to 6,400 feet to permit jet aircraft operation.

The runway extention is one phase of a general airport improvement project to develop more air service to the mid-Upper Peninsula area. A new terminal building is also under construction.

FAA gave much less than had been projected as the federal share of the project, which had an original total estimated cost of $748,300, including, to acquire need land, $19,000; extend the east-west runway, $127,700; createa taxiway turnaround, $79,900; taxiways and apron at the new terminal, $271,500; access road from M-35, $50,300 and new terminal and sitework, $199,900.

The city projected its share of the project in its original request for aid in March, 1967, at $474,100, and the federal share at $274,200. The federal share, now being increased by $18,000, is also expected to be augmented by $99,900 from the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission from a $2.5 million grant from the Department of Commerce for public works in Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Overtime Boosts Auto Production

DETROIT (AP)— Substantial use of Saturday overtime work boosted the nation's auto production over the 200,000 mark this week, according to estimates by the trade publication Automotive News.

The industry scheduled 203,437 cars for production this week, compared with 197,596 last week and 170,980 in the corresponding week a year earlier. An extra day of work was posted at 16 assembly plants, up 10 from last week.

For calendar 1968 to date, the industry has turned out 4,435,385 cars compared with 3,702,638 in the like period a year ago.

Car Kills Tot

UNION LAKE (AP) — Six-year-old Julie Marie Bohez of Union Lake was killed Friday when she ran in front of a milk truck and was struck by a passing car. The driver of the car was not held.

The U.P.'s Dilemma

The Upper Peninsula, which once used to get one quarter of the state's highway construction funds, now gets an estimated eight tenths of one per cent of them. The result is that the main arteries of highway traffic in the U. P. are inadequate for modern highway travel and even dangerous in places.

Viewing this situation and what it regards as the prime economic need of the Upper Peninsula, the new Associated Chambers of Commerce of Upper Michigan has asked for highway development related to Wisconsin's whose system feeds the largest part of outside traffic into the Upper Peninsula.

ACCUM doesn't regard an extension of the Interstate Highway System in the U. P. as a possibility, certainly not a likelihood, and it would settle for improvement of the present main arteries — US 2 and US 41:

★ ★ ★

This points dilemma. Michigan gets most of its federal road construction aid for use on building the interstate system, of which Michigan has 1,008 miles. Of these, only 50 miles are in the Upper Peninsula, from the Mackinac Bridge at St. Ignace over I-75 to Canada at Sault Ste. Marie.

There are 8,000 other miles of the state highway system and our US-2 east-west and US-41 north-south in the U. P. are in this 8,000 mile bundle. And for this larger part of the state's highway system the federal government gives only $30 million a year in aid. The state matches this and comes up with $60 million. It's grossly inadequate to meet the current needs for safe highways.

★ ★ ★

The Upper Peninsula is in a worse fix than the downstate area to get adequate highways because it has such a tiny piece of the Interstate System which gets most of the federal gravy. The Interstate is being improved with fancy overpasses on rural roads while the U. P. lacks safe main routes.

So nothing much is apt to happen in U. P. road construction — so much needed by the area for economic development — with the present attitude of the federal government on road aid to Michigan and the way the state spends its road construction money. It's spent downstate, where the traffic is much heavier than it is in the U. P.

This helps the state solve its highway problem in a way by discouraging travel in the Upper Peninsula because of the condition of its highways. But this doesn't solve the Upper Peninsula's problem.

And now comes another concern.

Michigan State Highway Commission Vice Chairman Wallace D. (Mike) Nunn, addressing the U. P. conference of the Michigan Municipal League at Ishpeming, said there's need for a comprehensive study of state, county and municipal road needs covering the period through 1990. Nunn is a proved friend of the Upper Peninsula. He is right about the need for the study. The last one was in 1960 and the previous ones in 1955 and 1948.

The third, covering needs through 1980, was the basis for passage of the Good Roads Tax Package last year. It estimated Michigan would fall $2 billion short of meeting its road fund needs through 1980. Nunn expects the 1970 study to show an even wider gap between highway needs and the state's ability to meet them.

Nunn said the 1970 study is expected to show that future highway programs should focus on urban traffic problems, more than in the past. Half of all motor vehicle mileage is concentrated in urban areas and it's expected to increase.

Such an eccent would mean that the Upper Peninsula would be doubly orphaned. We do not have an urban problem of too many persons living in a congested area. We have a growth problem of a sparse population spread over a huge area which outsiders are now avoiding because its highways are not of freeway quality.

While Congress ponders a solution to the problem o urbanization and wonders if there can ever be a solution while government spending nourishes big city growth, our highway planners prepare to accentuate the problem by accelerating travel in the congestion while neglecting the rural areas. They could be the salvation of the situation if they were given some of the incentives that make the cities grow and grow and become more unliveable and ungovernable.

Academic Excellence At The Financial Crossroads

This article was written by Steve Anzalone, a sophomore political science student at the University of Michigan, where he is assistant night editor and a contributor to the editorial page of the Michigan Daily. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Anzalone, 506 S. 17th St., he is employed this summer by the Fair Store and is keeping his hand in journalism by contributing this series to the Escanaba Daily Press.

By STEVE ANZALONE

When John Kennedy spoke to a group of cheering students on the steps on the University of Michigan Union, he called his alma mater, Harvard, the University of Michigan of the East. The university has long basked in this proud reputation of academic excellence.

But now the university seems to be at a brink where its position among the top universities of the world is threatened. The threat comes not from a decline in quality but rather from not being able to keep pace with other universities' rapid improvement.

Only one thing is necessary for Michigan to keep its place in the academic world—money. But getting the funds necessary to run and expand a first-rate institution is becoming increasingly harder.

Need For Funds

The university is presently fighting a losing war with the Legislature to obtain more funds. The university requested $75.8 million from the Legislature for operating funds for 1968-69. The Senate has passed a bill which would give the university $61.3 million. Recently the House approved a bill that would extend the figure to $63.6

Steve Anzalone

million. The university will operate with a budget somewhere around this figure.

The $12 million cut in the university's request will almost certainly force the third tuition hike in the last four years. Hit hardest will be out-of-state students who may be forced to pay as much as $1500 for undergraduate tuition.

The unwillingless of the Legislature to come through with more funds for the university can be attributed to a number of reasons.

Divided More Ways

For one, the Legislature has not assigned priority to higher education that colleges once enjoyed. A second reason is that the other state colleges are exerting strong pressures on their local legislators for funds. The educational outlay has to be divided more ways.

Moreover, although perhaps not as important as the other reasons, is the fact that the Legislatures do not hold the university in as high esteem as they once did.

Some legislators have charged that university officials have misused operational funds for building purposes. President Robben Fleming says that an audit of the university accounts will show that this is not true.

And there are some lawmakers who are not very pleased with the student body. One legislator sent a newsletter home expressing his contempt for the university, which he feels is instilling "treasonous philosophy" in the students.

Brain Drain

But whatever the reasons may be, the university is not getting the money that it needs. The meager funds have caused the salaries of professors to grow at a much slower rate than those at other universities. Once near the top, the salaries of professors have dropped to number 23 in the nation.

As salaries passed from an "A" rating to a "B" this year, the university is losing much of the faculty. By January of this year, over 200 professors indicated they would not be back next year.

Private Funds

Unfortunately, the brain drain has included several "stars." One professor who recently left is Kenneth Boulding, president of the American Council of Economists. A very eminent scholar, Boulding said that the university has been and is a great school, but he said that it is the feeling of many that it may be on the way down.

To prevent this decline, a fund-raising drive last year obtained over $70 million from private sources. Alumni and corporations rallied to insure maintenance of "the vital margin." But except for creating a few endowed professorships, the funds were given to finance new facilities and were not used for professors' salaries.

However, in spite of the success of the program, more money will be necessary to "insure the vital margin." If the university cannot keep its high-powered faculty, it certainly is doomed for mediocrity.

Robben Fleming is trying to improve relations with the Legislature. If he is unable to do so, many feel that he will turn increasingly to the more sympathetic purse in Washington.

But(hopefully, those in Lansing will realize the importance of retaining a first-rate university in the state. Certainly, very few are against the idea now. All that it will take is the willingness to pay for it.

PRAYER

Two months ago I was faced with a court case in which I was told I didn't have a chance to win, with an attorney or without one. Due to that fact, and due to the fact that I didn't have the sum to retain a lawyer and due to the fact I could not see the other party that brought this case to court to win his suit, which I felt was unjust. I called upon God, and prayed that He would see that justice be done; that His will be done, not my will not the will of the party involved.

I promised God that I would publicly thank Him for answering my prayers, and the Good Lord did see that justice was done. The Lord has heard and has had pity on me; the Lord became my helper. I will give thanks to you, O Lord, my God, with all my heart. Who says God is dead? Not I.

KENNEDY

Today is the seventh of June, two days after we in Vietnam learned of the death of Senator Robert Kennedy.

A lot of men here are wondering what is happening back [illegible]. Those of us who were [illegible] a radio when the story broke sat in silence and stared [illegible] at the tragic [illegible] new wars.

[illegible] that run through [illegible] my and I [illegible] disagree. But [illegible] to hear [illegible] attack Senator Kennedy. Why must incidents like this happen in a land where freedom and peace are supposed to reign supreme?

Our men here are fighting and dying valiantly in order to preserve peace in the world. They risk their lives daily in the jungles and highlands on the roads and in the air. They are tired of death and bloodshed. Their primary wish is to be safely home with their families and loved ones. They do not want to return to more killing and tragedy.

Maybe when something is done about the Lee Harvey Oswalds, Richard Specks and Shiran Shirans, the world may truly live in peace.

She cashed her ace and king of clubs next and led a spade to dummy's jack. If East had produced the queen. Barbara would have been down at least two tricks, but the jack held. Now Barbara was able to discard her three of clubs on the ace of spades. Then she led a club from dummy and ruffed high. This dropped East's queen. The eight of hearts was led next to put dummy in with the nine, and two of her three diamonds went on the last two clubs.

Sort of a humdrum hand, but look at all the chances Barbara had to go wrong. We will concede that the nine of spades at trick one was automatic and the play of heart honors in order to make the nine spot an eventual entry to dummy was also automatic, but we wonder if many players would have remembered to cash the ace and king of clubs before taking the spade finesse.

Stop Worrying, It Could Shorten Life

Dear Ann Landers: What is this world coming to? It seems like the only place a person is safe anymore is in his grave. Last fall an airliner crashed into a row of houses and a dozen people were killed in their living rooms or asleep in their beds.

Several weeks ago a mother in Miami was walking in a park with two children—one a baby in a carriage. A drunk driver missed the corner turn and drove up on the sidewalk and killed the mother and the baby.

Yesterday a neighbor told me her cousin's children were playing in their own backyard when a pack of wild dogs jumped the hedge and almost tore the children apart.

Every day we read of senseless killings on the streets of the big cities—in broad daylight, and often with onlookers who did nothing to help the victim.

I am a teen-ager who is wondering if people are safe anywhere. Please give me some encouragement. I am—OLD BEFORE MY TIME

Dear Old: Life today is somewhat more hazardous because (1) there are more peocause: (1) There are more people and they are living closer together. (2) There are more ways for people to get killed due to technological "progress." (3) More nuts have guns than ever before which means more people are going to be shot.

Yet in spite of all this, the insurance actuaries show that every male born in 1967 can expect to reach 68 years of age. Every female can expect to live at least three years longer. Medical science is largely responsible for lengthening the life span.

So stop worrying. Your chances today are actually better than ever. Besides, worry can shorten your life.

Dear Ann Landers: A friend of mine asked me to drive down to the courthouse with her so she could "straighten around" her driver's license. It seems that when Polly renewed her license her hair was dark brown. She is now an ash blonde.

Polly took her license out of her purse and I noticed she had given her age as 48. I happen to know she is 53. When I called this "error" to her attention she replied, "I don't think it's anybody's business how old I am."

It occurred to me that Polly might get into trouble if it were discovered she gave a false age. What about this?—GLENVIEW, ILLINOIS

Dear Glen: State laws vary, but in Illinois, if a person knowingly makes a false statement when applying for a license he may suddenly find his license revoked.

More and more (thank heaven) state laws are being passed which require that everyone over 68 years of age take an examination in order to get his driver's license renewed. This makes it imperative that people be truthful about their age.

The U.P.'s Dilemma

The Upper Peninsula, which once used to get one quarter of the state's highway construction funds, now gets an estimated eight tenths of one per cent of them. The result is that the main arteries f highway traffic in the U. P. are inadequate for modern highway travel and even dangerous in places.

Viewing this situation and what it regards as the prime economic need of the Upper Peninsula, the new Associated Chambers of Commerce of Upper Michigan has asked for highway development related to Wisconsin's whose system feeds the largest part of outside traffic into the Upper Peninsula.

ACCUM doesn't regard an extension of the Interstate Highway System in the U. P. as a possibility, certainly not a likelihood, and it would settle for improvement of the present main arteries — US 2 and US 41:

* * *

This points dilemma. Michigan gets most of its federal road construction aid for use on building the interstate system, of which Michigan has 1,008 miles. Of these, only 50 miles are in the Upper Peninsula, from the Mackinac Bridge at St. Ignace over I-75 to Canada at Sault Ste. Marie.

There are 8,000 other miles of the state highway system and our US-2 east-west and US-41 north-south in the U. P. are in this 8,000 mile bundle. And for this larger part of the state's highway system the federal government gives only $30 million a year in aid. The state matches this and comes up with $60 million. It's grossly inadequate to meet the current needs for safe highways.

* * *

The Upper Peninsula is in a worse fix than the downstate area to get adequate highways because it has such a tiny piece of the Interstate System which gets most of the federal gravy. The Interstate is being improved with fancy overpasses on rural roads while the U. P. lacks safe main routes.

So nothing much is apt to happen in U. P. road construction — so much needed by the area for economic development — with the present attitude of the federal government on road aid to Michigan and the way the state spends its road construction money. It's spent downstate, where the traffic is much heavier than it is in the U. P.

This helps the state solve its highway problem in a way by discouraging travel in the Upper Peninsula because of the condition of its highways. But this doesn't solve the Upper Peninsula's problem.

* * *

And now comes another concern.

Michigan State Highway Commission Vice Chairman Wallace D. (Mike) Nunn, addressing the U. P. conference of the Michigan Municipal League at Ishpeming, said there's need for a comprehensive study of state, county and municipal road needs covering the period through 1990. Nunn is a proved friend of the Upper Peninsula. He is right about the need for the study. The last one was in 1960 and the previous ones in 1955 and 1948.

The third, covering needs through 1980, was the basis for passage of the Good Roads Tax Package last year. It estimated Michigan would fall $2 billion short of meeting its road fund needs through 1980. Nunn expects the 1970 study to show an even wider gap between highway needs and the state's ability to meet them.

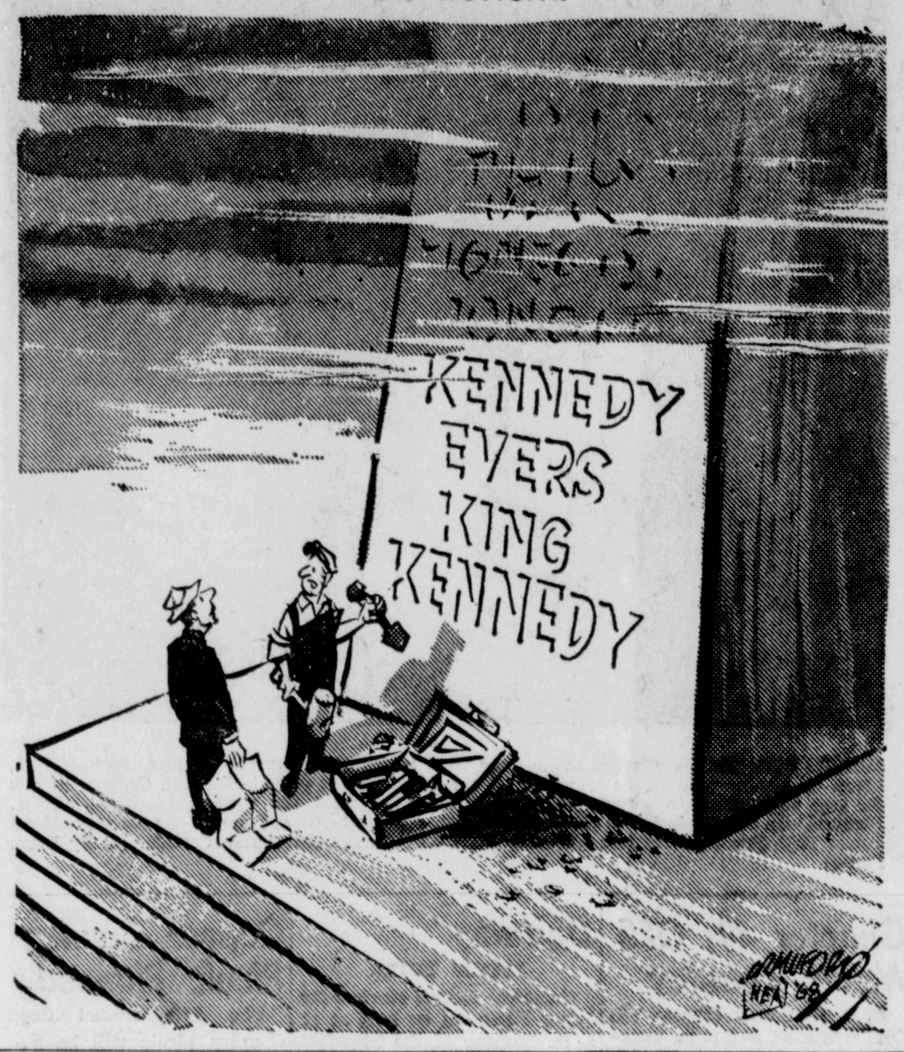

* * *

Nunn said the 1970 study is expected to show that future highway programs should focus on urban traffic problems, more than in the past. Half of all motor vehicle mileage is concentrated in urban areas and it's expected to increase.

Such an eccent would mean that the Upper Peninsula would be doubly orphaned. We do not have an urban problem of too many persons living in a congested area. Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
	1 ♦	Pass	1 ♥
Pass	2 N.T.	Pass	3 ♦
Pass	4 ♦	Pass	?

You, South, hold:
♠ A 4 ♥ K J 9 3 ♦ K 6 5 ♣ K 10 8 7

What do you do now?

A—Bid four no-trump. This is Blackwood and you plan to pass if he bids five diamonds to show one ace, to bid six diamonds if he shows two aces and to bid five no-trump if he shows three aces.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of rebidding two no-trump, your partner has bid one spade over your one heart. What do you do now?

As a nation we are careening toward a foreign policy bankruptcy which may be irreparable. At home we face a crisis in race relations that amounts to urban insurrection, or worse, genocide.

Ann Landers

Stop Worrying, It Could Shorten Life

Dear Ann Landers: What is this world coming to? It seems like the only place a person is safe anymore is in his grave. Last fall an airliner crashed into a row of houses and a dozen people were killed in their living rooms or asleep in their beds.

Several weeks ago a mother in Miami was walking in a park with two children—one a baby in a carriage. A drunk driver missed the corner turn and drove up on the sidewalk and killed the mother and the baby.

Yesterday a neighbor told me her cousin's children were playing in their own backyard when a pack of wild dogs jumped the hedge and almost tore the children apart.

Every day we read of senseless killings on the streets of the big cities—in broad daylight, and often with onlookers who did nothing to help the victim.

I am a teen-ager who is wondering if people are safe anywhere. Please give me some encouragement. I am—OLD BEFORE MY TIME

Dear Old: Life today is somewhat more hazardous because (1) there are more peocause: (1) There are more people and they are living closer together. (2) There are more ways for people to get killed due to technological "progress." (3) More nuts have guns than ever before which means more people are going to be shot.

Yet in spite of all this, the insurance actuaries show that every male born in 1967 can expect to reach 68 years of age. Every female can expect to live at least three years longer. Medical science is largely responsible for lengthening the life span.

So stop worrying. Your chances today are actually better than ever. Besides, worry can shorten your life.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: A friend of mine asked me to drive down to the courthouse with her so she could "straighten around" her driver's license. It seems that when Polly renewed her license her hair was dark brown. She is now an ash blonde.

Polly took her license out of her purse and I noticed she had given her age as 48. I happen to know she is 53. When I called this "error" to her attention she replied, "I don't think it's anybody's business how old I am."

It occurred to me that Polly might get into trouble if it were discovered she gave a false age. What about this?—GLENVIEW, ILLINOIS

Dear Glen: State laws vary, but in Illinois, if a person knowingly makes a false statement when applying for a license he may suddenly find his license revoked.

More and more (thank heaven) state laws are being passed which require that everyone over 68 years of age take an examination in order to get his driver's license renewed. This makes it imperative that people be truthful about their age.

How far should a teen-age couple go? Can necking be safe? When does it become too hot to handle? Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Necking And Petting — What Are The Limits?" Mail your request to Ann Landers in care of your newspaper enclosing 50c in coin and a long, stamped and self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed and stamped envelope.

PRAYER

Two months ago I was faced with a court case in which I was told I didn't have a chance to win, with an attorney or without one. Due to that fact, and due to the fact that I didn't have the sum to retain a lawyer and due to the fact I could not see the other party that brought this case to court to win his suit, which I felt was unjust. I called upon God, and prayed that He would see that justice be done; that His will be done, not my will not the will of the party involved.

I promised God that I would publicly thank Him for answering my prayers, and the Good Lord did see that justice was done. The Lord has heard and has had pity on me; the Lord became my helper. I will give thanks to you, O Lord, my God, with all my heart. Who says God is dead? Not I.

KENNEDY

Today is the seventh of June, two days after we in Vietnam learned of the death of Senator Robert Kennedy.

A lot of men here are wondering what is happening back home. Those of us who were near a radio when the story broke sat in silence and stared disbelievingly as the tragic news befell our ears.

The thoughts that ran through our heads were many and I imagine all were different. But each of us were shocked to hear of the terrible fate that struck Senator Kennedy. Why must incidents like this happen in a land where freedom and peace are supposed to reign supreme?

Our men here are fighting and dying valiantly in order to preserve peace in the world. They risk their lives daily in the jungles and highlands on the roads and in the air. They are tired of death and bloodshed. Their primary wish is to be safely home with their families and loved ones. They do not want to return to more killing and tragedy.

Maybe when something is done about the Lee Harvey Oswalds, Richard Specks and Shiran Shirans, the world may truly live in peace.

EVERY JOURNEY...

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The caravan has travelled through the desert for many days . . . and the men are glad to see the tall date palms of the oasis in the distance. Here they will rest and refresh themselves beside the cool spring before continuing on their way.

Every journey is made easier if it is broken by intervals of restoration and renewal. Even life itself can be a weary road if it does not contain times and places where we can pause to gather new strength. Where can modern men and women regain the equilibrium and peace of mind that they need so badly?

Fortunately, we too have an oasis . . . the Christian Church. The teachings of Jesus offer deep wells of comfort for the spirit, and springs of joy to revitalize any life that lacks goal or purpose.

Attend the Church of Your Choice

EVERY JOURNEY...

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The caravan has travelled through the desert for many days . . . and the men are glad to see the tall date palms of the oasis in the distance. Here they will rest and refresh themselves beside the cool spring before continuing on their way.

Every journey is made easier if it is broken by intervals of restoration and renewal. Even life itself can be a weary road if it does not contain times and places where we can pause to gather new strength. Where can modern men and women regain the equilibrium and peace of mind that they need so badly?

Fortunately, we too have an oasis . . . the Christian Church. The teachings of Jesus offer deep wells of comfort for the spirit, and springs of joy to revitalize any life that lacks goal or purpose.

Winds Damage Berry Farm

TRAUNIK—Winds described as of tornado proportions have virtually destroyed the 1968 crop on one of the Upper Peninsula's largest strawberry farms.

Peter Ostanek, who with his sister, Mrs. Ann Fountain, operates the farm near this Alger County village, said the unconfirmed "twister" stripped 60,000 early crop strawberry plants of buds and leaves, causing damage estimated at $15,000. Only a few of the plants could be salvaged with special care, he said.

Ostanek said "one of the best crops in years" had been expected before the storm, and that production on the 15 acre farm would have amounted to about 500 crates of berries an acre.

Health Exam Plan Swamped

The Michigan State Health Department health screening unit drew so many people when it started service at Dearborn that they waited in a line which became more than a block long.

With such experience the Health Department ordered appointments for future public offerings of the health screening service. The unit has been operating this week at the Delta Menominee Health Department, Delta County Building, Escanaba and when registrations were announced the Health Department phones were so busy that many persons couldn't get through to make an appointment.

The unit is fully booked through its Escanaba stay ending next Friday, and the department has taken a reserve list of applicants in case some of the original registrants cannot keep their appointments. There will also be time for persons who need x-ray examinations for public service jobs, etc., to get them at the mobile unit at 9 a. m. and 2 p. m. daily before the health screening rush starts.

Dr. Mary L. Cretens, director of the Delta Menominee Health Department, expects the unit to screen the health of more than 1000 persons in its 9 day stand here. It accommodates about 16 persons an hour.

After its week here it moves to Menominee and then will be back at Bark River on July 8, 9 and 10 for screening of Indians and whites.

Where the screening reveals health problems they are referred to the person's private physician for follow-up service. The screening is the first of its kind offered here by the State Health Department.

his speech, Asst. Chief Donald Barton said, police relieved George W. Dehoff, 25, of Murfreesboro, Tenn., of a loaded pistol he had jammed in his waistband.

Dehoff had a permit to carry the gun in neighboring Rutherford County as a special deputy sheriff but it was confiscated, Barton said.

Wallace Confident

Wallace told newsmen he is confident he will carry Tennessee on election day and, more significantly, will win some states outside the South as well. He mentioned states "like Illinois and Michigan."

The Democratic race, like the Republican, has reduced itself to one active and vocal candidate campaigning against a relatively silent one since Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, a contender for the Democratic nomination, hasn't returned to campaigning since the Kennedy slaying.

Heads To Roll

Humphrey's opponent, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, vowed to Montana Democrats Friday night that he wouldn't hesitate to fire Cabinet members if elected.

"My administration is going to make them the first to go," he said in Helena at a banquet opening the party's meeting to choose national convention delegates.

While McCarthy was present in flesh, Humphrey made an appearance of sorts too. A spokesman for the vice president greeted the group on his behalf and read a message from him.

With a bow to McCarthy as "a witty and charming man," the Humphrey statement urged the Montanans to keep their heads. "Please don't let him persuade you tonight," it said.

ABC will broadcast it at 3:55 p.m. and probably again during the 11 p.m. news.

CBS said it would feed the message to its affiliate stations for their use at about 3:55 p.m. since the network is not connected at that hour. It was expected the message would be broadcast during the Roger Mudd Evening News at 7 p.m.

Signs will be put up in parks and recreation areas reading: "This area is for a children's playground. Adults are not allowed unless accompanied by children."

Construction of the signs was approved at a Recreation and Park Commission meeting this week. There have been complaints about hippies using the parks.

More people get more news from newspapers than all other sources combined.

Lady Mail Carrier Begins Work Here

By JANET MARTIN

Something new has been added to the personnel of the Escanaba Post Office.

For the first time in the history of the Post Office in this area a female mail carrier has been hired.

Miss Mary Lynn Bourke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bourke, 714 Bay St., started her duties as a sub city carrier on June 1, 1968 under the Youth Opportunity Program.

Civil Service

Miss Bourke is a sophomore at Northern Michigan University, Marquette, and placed first in a civil service test for a position in the postal service. She is a 1967 graduate of Holy Name High School.

Mary will be working all shifts at the Post Office and may be called out as early as 3:45 a. m. Her duties include, carrying mail on foot, making collections on the truck, and delivering parcel post items and special deliveries.

Not Bitten Yet

Mary says of her new position, "I enjoy it very much, and I've been caught in the rain once, but as yet haven't been bitten by a dog." The men at the Post Office say, "you're not a real mail carrier until you've been bitten at least once!"

Postmaster James Pryal said the Post Office has been hiring summer people through the Youth Opportunity Program for four or five years and the practice has proven very successful.

Speaking of Mary, he said, "She is doing a very fine job and we are very proud of her."

David Liu Addresses B&PW Club Members

Escanaba Business and Professional Women's Club, meeting Tuesday evening at the Sherman Hotel, heard an informative talk on China by David Liu, librarian at Bay de Noc College.

Liu, who is a native of Canton, China, stated that China is the oldest continuous organization on earth with 4000 years of history and, to be understood, it must be looked at in its historic aspects.

It gained unification in 220 B. C. and, geographically separated from other nations, it has always been self-centered and maintained moral self-sufficiency. It became a Republic in 1911.

The aggressiveness of Red China, he said, can be traced back to the 19th Century under the Manchus when the "open door" policy was advocated, which became resented. In his opinion, Communism would not have gotten its hold on China if the Chinese people had been helped during the Japanese occupation and after 1945.

Military Threat

However, he feels that Red China's threat is more a moral and cultural threat, while the Soviet threat 22 years ago was primarily a military one. Where the American policy in Europe was to stop force by force, he does not think this policy would be as effective against China.

He stated we are inclined to judge Red China by its public pronouncements of this country but the relationship between the two countries is not as static as it appears. Communism in China today is not the same as advocated by Lenin and Marx, as the Chinese people tend to absorb movements and "China-lize." them as they did with Buddhism. Nationalism is the dominate force in China and Communism is second.

Containment as a policy, said Liu, is a dead-end street and not a permanent solution but it is necessary at present. Isolation is the worst policy and has proven more disastrous than containment. It will take both sides to de-isolate and there can be no rapid change and no easy solution; it will have to be conducted step by step with quiet diplomacy and patient, mutual understanding.

More Cooperation

Since there hase been cultural and economic exchanges between Eastern and Western Europe, there has been more cooperation between them and Liu feels that this policy will be even more effective in Southeast Asia.

Comparisons between China and the western world by Liu included, China and Civil Service as early as 165 B. C. and it did not begin in the United States until 1883; and Confuscius, who was born 500 years before Christ, gave the Chinese people the idea of, "proper relations between human beings," with emphasis on rule by virtue rather than by law.

Guests at the meeting were Elaine Saari, social service consultant from Houghton and Kathy Houle who is employed by Delta County Health Department. Elected as a new member of BPW Club was Mrs. Edward Bertrand who is a beauty operator at Hurley's Hair Fashions.

Colorado Law Hasn't Created Abortion Mills

Michigan physicians and many others are interested in the experiences in Colorado where abortion laws were liberalized in 1967. The Colorado information recently was provided at a Flint conference sponsored by the Michigan State Medical Society on maternal and perinatal welfare. The legislature and other groups have been considering possible changes in the Michigan laws pertaining to abortions.

Two out of three abortions performed in Colorado since that legislature liberalized its laws last spring were performed for psychiatric reasons, mostly related to depression over being pregnant, said Dr. E. Stewart Taylor, of Colorado. Dr. Taylor is chairman of the obstetrics-gynecology department at the University of Colorado Medical School in Denver.

Fetal problems, rape, and medical difficulties for the woman, in that order accounted for the other third of the cases. Maternal rubella (hard red German measles) was the main reason for fetal indications.

Colorado has not become "the abortion mecca of the country" as a result of its recently liberalized abortion laws, Dr. Taylor said. Out of a possible 52 hospitals approved by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals, 23 have established boards to handle therapeutic abortions.

In the nine month period from May 1, 1967 to Feb. 1, 1968, there have been 224 therapeutic abortions, with 145 of the women Colorado residents.

Single women had 51 per cent of the abortions; married women, 36 per cent; divorced, 10 per cent; and widowed, 3 per cent. Over 50 per cent of the women were in a family income bracket of less than $5,500 a year. "This shows," Dr. Taylor said, "that therapeutic abortion isn't available only to those who can afford it."

Forty of the 224 abortions resulted in medical complications. This high incidence was a result of the "red tape" involved in getting an abortion approved. "The earlier the abortion is performed, the less chance of complication," Dr. Taylor said.

Although there has been a nine fold increase in Colorado legal abortions since the law was changed, when compared to countries like Japan or Sweden, the number of abortions, in relation to the number of live births, is very low.

Single women had 51 per cent of the abortions; married women, 36 per cent; divorced, 10 per cent; and widowed, 3 per cent. Over 50 per cent of the women were in a family income bracket of less than $5,500 a year. "This shows," Dr. Taylor said, "that therapeutic abortion isn't available only to those who can afford it."

Forty of the 224 abortions resulted in medical complications. This high incidence was a result of the "red tape" involved in getting an abortion approved. "The earlier the abortion is performed, the less chance of complication," Dr. Taylor said.

Although there has been a nine fold increase in Colorado legal abortions since the law was changed, when compared to countries like Japan or Sweden, the number of abortions, in relation to the number of live births, is very low.

The Department of Housing and Urban Development has committed itself to approval or rejection of the project by July 3. Senate Okays Lakes Compact

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed a bill to give congressional approval to the Great Lakes Basin Compact.

A voice vote sent the measure to the House.

Member states of the compact are Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Wisconsin, New York, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

The Great Lakes Commission, operating agency of the compact, has been in operation 11 years, with headquarters at Ann Arbor, Mich.

The state joined in a regional approach to find the best ways of dealing with such issues as use of land and water resources, pollution, fishing and wildlife, navigation, commerce and recreation in the Great Lakes area.

Formal congressional recognition of an interstate compact is required and efforts to obtain it have been going on for 12 years.

A major stumbling block, however, has been the compact's provisions that the Canadian provinces of Ontario and Quebec could become members.

The bill passed by the Senate withholds approval of that section and others dealing with proposed official arrangements between the compact agency and Canada.

Courts Bill On Romney's Desk

LANSING (AP) — House Speaker Robert Waldron, R - Grosse Pointe, reported that the lower court reorganization bill was sent by the House to Gov. George Romney for his signature.

Waldron said he wanted to let all municipalities to know the exact position of the bill at all times.

City councils, he said, will have only seven days after the bill is signed into law to exempt themselves from the act if they so desire.

"This bill may not be exactly what we all want," Waldron said, "but it is a good bill, and it does allow us to avoid a possible choatic situation come next January."

State Sets Power Line Clearance For Water Bodies

LANSING (AP)—The possibility of a sailboat hitting a high tension electric wire sounds like a freak accident.

But at least two fatalities have occurred in Michigan from sailboat masts coming into contact with electric power lines, reports Peter Spivak, chairman of the State Public Service Commission.

Michigan is the first state in the union, Spivak said, to establish rules covering the clearance of wires over water.

Utility companies, Spivak explained, run wires over lakes and ponds as the shortest distance between two points.

Sailboat masts coming into contact with the wires, especially since the advent of the aluminum mast, have caused numerous non-fatal accidents in addition to the two fatalities recorded, Spivak said.

There is no set height for the wires under new commission rules effective Aug. 15. A safe clearance is specified for each body of water.

Prosecutors Urge Gun Law Reforms

LANSING (AP) — The Prosecuting Attorney's Association of Michigan favors total reform of any laws which allow the use of firearms for illegal purposes, the group's president reports.

Donald Reisig, prosecuting attorney for Ingham County, said, "The association has been concerned for a number of years with loose gun control regulations in the state of Michigan."

The recent shooting death of Sen. Robert Kennedy has resulted in much discussion of gun control laws. Reisig was interviewed in Lansing.

Reisig said that although the association favors a tightening of gun laws, it does not advocate a total ban on use and ownership of guns.

Road Sign Curbs Gaining Approval

CHICAGO (AP) — Motorists traveling the nation's main highways will see more natural beauty and fewer billboards in the years ahead.

The Federal Highway Administration has approved outdoor advertising control legislation adopted in 10 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico.

It has signed interim agreements with five other states that have passed laws which meet most of the federal requirements. Several other states are considering legislation to clear their highway areas of unsightly or view-obstructing billboards.

The agreements set up precise standards governing the position, size, spacing, zoning and lighting of billboards along interstate and primary road systems.

A major impetus for highway view preservation is the 1965 federal Highway Beautification Act providing for billboard controls, screening of roadside junkyards and landscaping.

Under this legislation, noncomplying states are threatened with a loss of 10 per cent of federal highway funds contributed toward both interstate and primary highway systems.

The deadline for compliance was Jan. 1, but Alan S. Boyd, secretary of the Department of Transportation, said no penalties will be applied this year.

Jurisdictions which have complied with federal requirements are Maryland, Alaska, California, Connecticut, Vermont, Puerto Rico, the District of Columbia, Kentucky, Rhode Island, Utah, Virginia and Hawaii.

New York, Maine, Minnesota, Delaware and Pennsylvania have signed interim agreements with the Federal Highway Administration.

Opposition to billboard control has come principally from tourist-oriented towns, such roadside business interests as hotel motel and restaurant owners, and, in some states, outdoor advertising companies.

Garden clubs and conservationists have been avid supporters.

A nationwide survey made by The Associated Press showed that virtually all states maintain some control over highway billboard displays.

Highway department spokesmen in the majority of states which have not yet complied with federal specifications predicted that bills aimed at reaching that goal will be introduced by next year.

Forest Service Bids $49,000 For City Hall

In a special council meeting Wednesday at 5 p.m. city council heard an offer from the U.S. Forest Service to purchase the city hall for $49,000.

City Manager Robert Noe said that under the new charter provisions, city property for sale must be advertised twice—soliciting bids from other interested parties. This will be done to satisfy the charter requirements, he said.

Noe declined to comment on what future plans the city might have for maintaining the municipal offices.

The Forest Service occupies one-half the main floor of city hall and uses two rooms in the basement for conference rooms.

Further action on this matter will be taken on June 24 when council will meet in regular session.

City hall, formerly occupied by the Inland Lime and Stone Co., was donated to the city some years ago by Inland when the company moved its offices to Port Inland near Gulliver.

Hayhew Heads State Editors

GAYLORD (AP) — David T. Hayhow, 37, publisher of the Dowagiac Daily News, Friday was elected president of the Michigan Associated Press Editorial Association, a post his father held four years ago.

Herb Spendlove, editor of the Jackson Citizen-Patriot, was elected to succeed Hayhow as vice president of the MAPEA.

Hayhow is the son of Ted Hayhow, publisher of the Hillsdale Daily News since 1946. The elder Hayhow served as president of the MAPEA in 1964-65. It is the first time in the 25-year history of the MAPEA that a father and son have both served as president.

The younger Hayhow, a native of Pontiac, entered the newspaper business by working for his father while a student at Hillsdale High School. He is a graduate of Michigan State University and a veteran of the Korean war.

Before becoming publisher at Dowagiac five years ago, Hayhow published the Savanna (Ill.) Times-Journal for five years and worked for the Charlotte (N.C.) Observer and the Pontiac Press. In addition to the Daily News, Hayhow publishes the Portage Herald, a weekly.

Newspapers, Hayhow said, "have to be leaders beginning in their own communities, and their responsibilities are more critical in our times."

A small daily paper offers the advantage to the reporter of getting closer to the people, Hayhow added. The Dowagiac Daily News has a circulation of 3,600.

Hayhow and his wife Jan, have two children, Elizabeth, 9, and William 8.

Chemical Firms Protest Labelling Change For DDT

LANSING (AP) — Representatives of five major chemical companies have appealed to the State Agriculture Department to reconsider an order forbidding the labeling of DDT as a chemical to be used for mosquito control.

The department took its action after the State Conservation Department and other groups complained that excessive use of DDT was polluting the Great Lakes area.

Conservation experts said DDT detected in salmon was responsible for a rash of deaths among young salmon raised from eggs taken from fish that grew to maturity in the great lakes.

D. J. Keating, vice president and general manager of the agricultural chemical division of the Stauffer Chemical Co. was spokesman for the group.

"The most dramatic testimonial to the importance of DDT use in the control of mosquitoes is that the World Health Organization and the U. S. Government have been purchasing DDT for this purpose at the rate of 65 million to 75 million pounds a year," Keating said.

B. Dale Ball, agriculture department director, said no decision will be reached on the issue until testimony at the hearing is transcribed and studied.

LANSING (AP)—The possibility of a sailboat hitting a high tension electric wire sounds like a freak accident.

But at least two fatalities have occurred in Michigan from sailboat masts coming into contact with electric power lines, reports Peter Spivak, chairman of the State Public Service Commission.

Michigan is the first state in the union, Spivak said, to establish rules covering the clearance of wires over water.

Utility companies, Spivak explained, run wires over lakes and ponds as the shortest distance between two points.

Sailboat masts coming into contact with the wires, especially since the advent of the aluminum mast, have caused numerous non-fatal accidents in addition to the two fatalities recorded, Spivak said.

There is no set height for the wires under new commission rules effective Aug. 15. A safe clearance is specified for each body of water.

Prosecutors Urge Gun Law Reforms

LANSING (AP) — The Prosecuting Attorney's Association of Michigan favors total reform of any laws which allow the use of firearms for illegal purposes, the group's president reports.

Donald Reisig, prosecuting attorney for Ingham County, said, "The association has been concerned for a number of years with loose gun control regulations in the state of Michigan."

The recent shooting death of Sen. Robert Kennedy has resulted in much discussion of gun control laws. Reisig was interviewed in Lansing.

Reisig said that although the association favors a tightening of gun laws, it does not advocate a total ban on use and ownership of guns.

Road Sign Curbs Gaining Approval

CHICAGO (AP) — Motorists traveling the nation's main highways will see more natural beauty and fewer billboards in the years ahead.

The Federal Highway Administration has approved outdoor advertising control legislation adopted in 10 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico.

It has signed interim agreements with five other states that have passed laws which meet most of the federal requirements. Several other states are considering legislation to clear their highway areas of unsightly or view-obstructing billboards.

The agreements set up precise standards governing the position, size, spacing, zoning and lighting of billboards along interstate and primary road systems.

A major impetus for highway view preservation is the 1965 federal Highway Beautification Act providing for billboard controls, screening of roadside junkyards and landscaping.

Under this legislation, noncomplying states are threatened with a loss of 10 per cent of federal highway funds contributed toward both interstate and primary highway systems.

The deadline for compliance was Jan. 1, but Alan S. Boyd, secretary of the Department of Transportation, said no penalties will be applied this year.

Jurisdictions which have complied with federal requirements are Maryland, Alaska, California, Connecticut, Vermont, Puerto Rico, the District of Columbia, Kentucky, Rhode Island, Utah, Virginia and Hawaii.

New York, Maine, Minnesota, Delaware and Pennsylvania have signed interim agreements with the Federal Highway Administration.

Opposition to billboard control has come principally from tourist-oriented towns, such roadside business interests as hotel motel and restaurant owners, and, in some states, outdoor advertising companies.

Garden clubs and conservationists have been avid supporters.

A nationwide survey made by The Associated Press showed that virtually all states maintain some control over highway billboard displays.

Highway department spokesmen in the majority of states which have not yet complied with federal specifications predicted that bills aimed at reaching that goal will be introduced by next year.

Forest Service Bids $49,000 For City Hall

In a special council meeting Wednesday at 5 p.m. city council heard an offer from the U.S. Forest Service to purchase the city hall for $49,000.

City Manager Robert Noe said that under the new charter provisions, city property for sale must be advertised twice—soliciting bids from other interested parties. This will be done to satisfy the charter requirements, he said.

Noe declined to comment on what future plans the city might have for maintaining the municipal offices.

The Forest Service occupies one-half the main floor of city hall and uses two rooms in the basement for conference rooms.

Further action on this matter will be taken on June 24 when council will meet in regular session.

City hall, formerly occupied by the Inland Lime and Stone Co., was donated to the city some years ago by Inland when the company moved its offices to Port Inland near Gulliver.

Hayhew Heads State Editors

GAYLORD (AP) — David T. Hayhow, 37, publisher of the Dowagiac Daily News, Friday was elected president of the Michigan Associated Press Editorial Association, a post his father held four years ago.

Herb Spendlove, editor of the Jackson Citizen-Patriot, was elected to succeed Hayhow as vice president of the MAPEA.

Hayhow is the son of Ted Hayhow, publisher of the Hillsdale Daily News since 1946. The elder Hayhow served as president of the MAPEA in 1964-65. It is the first time in the 25-year history of the MAPEA that a father and son have both served as president.

The younger Hayhow, a native of Pontiac, entered the newspaper business by working for his father while a student at Hillsdale High School. He is a graduate of Michigan State University and a veteran of the Korean war.

Before becoming publisher at Dowagiac five years ago, Hayhow published the Savanna (Ill.) Times-Journal for five years and worked for the Charlotte (N.C.) Observer and the Pontiac Press. In addition to the Daily News, Hayhow publishes the Portage Herald, a weekly.

Newspapers, Hayhow said, "have to be leaders beginning in their own communities, and their responsibilities are more critical in our times."

A small daily paper offers the advantage to the reporter of getting closer to the people, Hayhow added. The Dowagiac Daily News has a circulation of 3,600.

Hayhow and his wife Jan, have two children, Elizabeth, 9, and William 8.

Chemical Firms Protest Labelling Change For DDT

LANSING (AP) — Representatives of five major chemical companies have appealed to the State Agriculture Department to reconsider an order forbidding the labeling of DDT as a chemical to be used for mosquito control.

The department took its action after the State Conservation Department and other groups complained that excessive use of DDT was polluting the Great Lakes area.

Conservation experts said DDT detected in salmon was responsible for a rash of deaths among young salmon raised from eggs taken from fish that grew to maturity in the great lakes.

D. J. Keating, vice president and general manager of the agricultural chemical division of the Stauffer Chemical Co. was spokesman for the group.

"The most dramatic testimonial to the importance of DDT use in the control of mosquitoes is that the World Health Organization and the U. S. Government have been purchasing DDT for this purpose at the rate of 65 million to 75 million pounds a year," Keating said.

B. Dale Ball, agriculture department director, said no decision will be reached on the issue until testimony at the hearing is transcribed and studied.

Yancey Still Leads U.S. Open

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — There's an all-American-boy air, a certain mild naivette, about big, blond Bert Yancey, the second-round leader in the U.S. Open Golf Championship.

"Right now, I'd be very happy to settle for a 140 for the next two days," he said, bland and straight-faced as ever after posting a 68 for 135—equaling the best opening, 36 holes ever shot in an Open—and a two-stroke lead Friday.

It seemed like a reasonable statement. All such a performance would do is tie Jack Nicklaus' all-time record of 275 in this most prestigious and demanding of all the world's golf tournaments.

It was impossible to tell from Yancey's impassive face if he was aware of what he was saying, but it's very, very possible indeed that such a performance may be necessary if he is to stand off the challenge of brash Lee Trevino and some of the game's more glamorous names, who refuse to roll over and play dead.

"He has to catch me," Yancey shrugged when Trevino came in with his two-under-par 68 and remained two strokes off the pace after 36 holes over the 6,968-yard, par 70 Oak Hill course. The implication was that so would the rest of them.

"I still think I can win," said Billy Casper, the season's leading money-winner who rebounded with a second-round 68 for 1143.

"He can be caught," said defending champion Nicklaus, who had a par 70 for 142. "He can't be caught if he keeps up this pace, but that doesn't mean he will keep up that pace."

Palmer wasn't saying much of anything. He stumbled in with a 74—he didn't have a single birdie—for 147 and was a dejected and crestfallen man.

Charles Coody, who shared second place after the first day's play, slipped to a 71 for 140 and a tie for third with Don Bies, 70, Australian Bruce Devlin, 69, and Jerry Pittman, 67.

Nicklaus was bunched in a herd of 11 at 142.

Collegian Sets Open Record, Hits Eight Fans

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — In the tradition of show business, George Haines Jr. of Far Hills, N.J., left 'em laughing.

George is a spindly, hollow-cheeked young man of 23 whose greatest golf achievement before this year was playing the No. 2 position on the University of Pennsylvania team.

No one was more astounded than George when he qualified for the National Open. He took his first golf lesson in March.

People watched him swing and decided that the U.S. Golf Association ought to be given a saliva test. Or at least investigated by some Washington, D.C., bureau.

George teed off in the first round Thursday and set a new open record for hitting spectators.

Crowd Leaves

Employing one of the most gorgeous shanks ever seen in an Open, he beaned eight fans on the first six holes.

"Haines hit six fairways and eight spectators," a Rochester newspaper dutifully reported.

"I didn't hit anybody on the back nine," Haines said happily. "For some reason, the crowd all left."

Haines had a locker next to that of Al Geiberger, former PGA champion.

"I was thrilled with that," Haines reported. "I watched everything Geiberger did. When he went to the practice tee I went to the practice tee. I thought he might ask me to join his foursome."

Haines wound up and hit a drive. It went through Geiberger's legs. He hit another and it whizzed past Geiberger's ear.

"Geiberger picked up his bag and left," the Penn graduate said. "He abandoned a whole batch of balls."

Doesn't Buy Balls

Later, Bob Goalby, Charles Coody and several others came to the practice hitting area and took seats on a bench.

Haines began hitting some curves which came perilously close to the seated pros. They all left in haste.

"They left about three dozen balls," Haines said. "I don't have to buy many balls."

Although from a well-off family, Haines played in a shaggy gray sweater full of moth holes.

"Fred McLeod stole it in the 1903 Open and passed it down to me," he lied. Actually, it's a lucky sweater.

After finishing his first round, Haines was reading off his score card to USGA Asst. Director P. J. Boatright in the tent at the 18th green.

"Four-four-four," he said.

"Wait a minute," corrected Boatright, "didn't you get a five on the 18th."

"Yeah,' Haines replied. "I just wanted to see if you were alert."

USC Unbeaten Entering Finals

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Southern California takes a perfect tourney record against Southern Illinois in the College World Series finals tonight because Bob Vaughn, the team's forgotten ace, came off the injury list with a shutout.

If USC goes on to its fifth NCAA baseball crown, Vaughn's 2-0 six-hitter over North Carolina State Friday night will be the key to the title.

It enabled Coach Rod Dedeaux to come back with rested pitching rotation, starting with left-hander Bill Lee, the ace of the staff the past month with a 6-0 record and 1.40 earned run mark.

Southern Illinois also is ready with a rested rotation, starting with Jerry Petzhold, sophomore lefty who beat Harvard 2-1 in 12 innings Tuesday. But SIU must win tonight and again Monday to claim the championship. If USC wins tonight, it's all over.

In the hotel lobby friday afternoon, Dedeaux told a newsman, "Vaughn can't pitch—he's had a lot of arm trouble."

Actually, much of Vaughn's soreness left him in batting practice Thursday and the coach was hoping he could start, but hadn't told him.

"About 3 o'clock this afternoon, coach asked, 'Can you chuck it up tonight? and I said, 'You bet,'" Vaughn said after the game.

Southern Illinois, a first-round loser to NC State, bombed a werry St. John's staff for 20 hits and eliminated the New York team 15-0, the most lopsided shutout in series history. Howard Nickason pitched a three-hitter for SIU.

GROUND WAS BROKEN recently for improvements at the Holy Name High School athletic field which will give the school a lighted football field in time for the 1968 gridiron opener Aug. 31 against Iron Mountain. Joining in the ceremony were, from left, John Butrymowicz, athletic director; Brother Mark, boys department principal; Mrs. Eugene Verhamme, secretary-treasurer of the project; Joe Bal, project chairman, and Walt Snyder, project director. Lights will be installed next month. Grass already has been planted and a sprinkling system installed. Stationery bleachers seating over 1,000 and portable bleachers for another 500 or 600 fans will give the field a seating capacity of over 1,600. A scoreboard for the field has been ordered. Dedication ceremonies conducted by the Most Rev. Charles A. Salatka, bishop of the Marquette Catholic Diocese, are planned in August. The project is financed by the Holy Name Booster Club through donations and subscriptions. (Lee's Studio photo).

Harrelson Rips Three Homers:

Wert's Blast Saves Tigers

By The Associated Press

Ken Harrelson turned on three times as much power as Don Wert, but he couldn't have short-circuited Cleveland more completely than Wert did the Chicago White Sox.

Wert, a little slower pulling the switch, waited until the 14th inning before blasting his seventh home run that brought the American League-leading Detroit Tigers a 6-5 victory over the White Sox Friday night.

Harrelson held off until only the fifth inning before beginning a barrage of three consecutive homers that drove in seven runs and surged the Boston Red Sox by the Indians 7-2.

The rest of the league's hitters remained mostly grounded as Minnesota trimmed Baltimore 2-1 on infield hits, infield outs and a wild pitch and errors helped California past Washington 2-0 and the New York Yankees by Oakland 5-4 in 10 innings.

Wert, not noted as a power hitter at 5-foot-9, 165 pounds and only six homers all of last season, kept the juice flowing through the red-hot Tigers by wiping out the White Sox as the first hitter in the 14th.

The victory was the fifth straight and 10th in 11 games as the Tigers expanded their league lead to 6½ games over Baltimore.

They almost burned themselves out in the 13th after taking a 5-4 lead against loser Bob Priddy, 0-3, on Bill Freehan's run-scoring hit. Luis Aparicio beat out a hit for the Sox in the 13th, stole second, took third on a sacrifice and scored on an infield out, and Chicago had the winning run on second base before Detroit retired the side.

The Tigers got into extra innings in the first place when Earl Wilson, making his first start since injuring a heel May 24, capped a four-run uprising in the fifth inning with a three-run homer.

The White Sox had taken a 4-0 lead with a brief and surprising show of power as Tom McCraw hit a three-run homer.

Harrelson, a 6-2, 190-pounder who hit 12 homers in part-time duty last season, has really turned on the voltage this year by blasting 13 homers with 37 runs batted in.

He struck out and grounded out his first two times at bat against Cleveland as Boston fell behind 1-0, but then he ignited, blasting two-and three-run homers in the fifth and sixth innings off Luis Tiant, 9-5. He belted another with a man on in the eighth off Eddie Fisher in his last time at bat, making it easy for Dick Ellsworth, 5-4, who coasted with a five-hitter.

Minnesota ended a six-game losing streak, although the Orioles' Tom Phoebus, 5-6, allowed only two infield hits in his six innings. Cesar Tovar beat out one of them in the first inning, stole second, took third on a grounder and scored on a wild pitch. Tony Oliva walked in the fourth, reached third as Ted Uhlaender's line drive hit Phoebus and scored on a force play.

Jim Roland, making his first start in nearly four years, gave one hit in 3 1-3 innings and got the victory with relief from Al Worthington and Ron Perranoski.

George Brunet, 6-6, fashioned a six-hitter for California and the Angels converted eighth-inning errors by Mike Epstein and Bernie Allen into runs off loser Joe Coleman, 4-6.

The Yankees helped Oakland to a 3-0 lead on errors by Jake Gibbs and Mickey Mantle, but ruined the A's try for a fourth straight shutout with an unearned run of their own. Joe Pepitone tied the score with a two-run homer.

But the Yankees needed more help in the eighth when Mantle walked, stole second and right fielder Reggie Jackson dropped Pepitone's pop fly to let in Mantle with the tying run. Then Mantle won the game in the 10th with a run-scoring single.

The teams are organized on a neighborhood basis and members of each team should choose an appropriate name.

The schedule, including sign-up and practice:

Forbes Field No-Hitter Jinx Remains Intact

By The Associated Press

Bob Moose of Pittsburgh kept alive a short-running jinx—that of beating Houston. But he couldn't overcome a long-lived whammy — the one that prohibits a no-hitter in the Pirates, Forbes Field.

The rookie right-hander ran his record to 3-0 against Houston Friday night as the Pirates beat the Astros 3-0, and he made a serious bid for the first no-hitter ever in Forbes Field, which opened June 30, 1909.

But the whammy caught up with him after 7 2/3 innings when Julie Gotay blooped a single to right. Ron Davis singled in the ninth and Moose finished with a two-hitter.

The longest previous hitless string at Forbes Field was 7 1-3 innings by Al Jackson of the New York Mets on July 21, 1965.

Elsewhere in the National League Friday night, the Mets beat San Francisco 7-3, Cincinnati blanked St. Louis 7-0, Los Angeles beat Philadelphia 6-0 and then lost to the Phillies 2-1 and the Chicago Cubs nipped Atlanta 2-1.

Moose walked Rusty Staub with two out in the first and then retired 21 in a row before Gotay got his single. The victory ran his record to 2-4, with both victories coming in starting roles against Houston. His other victory over the Astros came in a brief fling with the Pirates last year.

The Pirates scored in the second inning when Fred Patek beat out a bunt for his first major-league hit, stole second and went to third on catcher John Bateman's throwing error and came home on Jerry May's single. They scored again in the sixth on Donn Clendenon's homer and got their final run in the eighth.

Rookie Wins 10th

Rookie Jerry Koosman got roughed up in the ninth when he yielded two runs but had enough to win his 10th game against two losses in the Mets' victory over San Francisco.

New York, winning its fourth straight, scored once in the first and then wrapped it up with four runs in the third on Don Bosch's solo homer and Jerry Buchek's three-run shot. It was Bosch's first homer in the majors.

Cincinnati broke open its scoreless duel with St. Louis by scoring four runs the seventh with the aid of five straight singles.

Lee May started the rally with one out and then Johnny Bench, Leo Cardenas, Mack Jones and Pete Rose followed with hits. Jones scored the inning's final run when he attempted to steal home and catcher Tim McCarver dropped the ball.

Billy McCool and Ted Abernathy limited the Cardinals to three hits.

Bill Singer raised his record to 6-5 by pitching a seven-hitter for his fourth straight victory in Los Angele's opening game triumph over Philadelphia that snapped a three-game losing streak. The Dodgers clinched it with a two-run second and a three-run third.

Cubs Top Braves

Philadelphia, held hitless for 6 1-3 innings by Mike Kekich, won the nightcap when Tony Gonzalez singled off Jim Brewer with the bases loaded in the ninth.

Los Angeles scored off winner Woody Fryman, 9-5, in the sixth, but the Phillies tied it when Richie Allen tripled, for the first hit, in the seventh and scored on Don Lock's sacrifice fly.

Fifth-inning doubles by Ernie Banks and Randy Hundley broke a 1-1 tie and gave Chicago a 2-1 victory over Atlanta.

The Braves scored in the first on Hank Aaron's double and Deron Johnson's single. Chicago came back to tie on Don Kessinger's single and stolen base, a groundout and Billy Williams' sacrifice fly.

Harding, a 26-year-old seven-footer, was shot in the leg Thursday. Police said Harding was shot after he went to the Detroit home of Morris Williams, 26. When Harding, who police said was armed with a gun, knocked on the door, Williams saw him and opened fire.

Police said four guns and some narcotics were confiscated at Brown's home.

Winning Goal

DETROIT (AP)—John Kowalik kicked his 16th goal of the season Friday night as the Chicago Mustangs scored a 3-2 North American Soccer League victory over the Detroit Cougars.

Yancey Still Leads U.S. Open

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — There's an all-American-boy air, a certain mild naivette, about big, blond Bert Yancey, the second-round leader in the U.S. Open Golf Championship.

"Right now, I'd be very happy to settle for a 140 for the next two days," he said, bland and straight-faced as ever after posting a 68 for 135—equaling the best opening, 36 holes ever shot in an Open—and a two-stroke lead Friday.

It seemed like a reasonable statement. All such a performance would do is tie Jack Nicklaus' all-time record of 275 in this most prestigious and demanding of all the world's golf tournaments.

It was impossible to tell from Yancey's impassive face if he was aware of what he was saying, but it's very, very possible indeed that such a performance may be necessary if he is to stand off the challenge of brash Lee Trevino and some of the game's more glamorous names, who refuse to roll over and play dead.

"He has to catch me," Yancey shrugged when Trevino came in with his two-under-par 68 and remained two strokes off the pace after 36 holes over the 6,962-yard, par 70 Oak Hill course. The implication was that so would the rest of them.

"I still think I can win," said Billy Casper, the season's leading money-winner who rebounded with a second-round 68 for 1143.

"He can be caught," said defending champion Nicklaus, who had a par 70 for 142. "He can't be caught if he keeps up this pace, but that doesn't mean he will keep up that pace."

Palmer wasn't saying much of anything. He stumbled in with a 74—he didn't have a single birdie—for 147 and was a dejected and crestfallen man.

Charles Coody, who shared second place after the first day's play, slipped to a 71 for 140 and a tie for third with Don Bies, 70, Australian Bruce Devlin, 69, and Jerry Pittman, 67.

Nicklaus was bunched in a herd of 11 at 142.

Collegian Sets Open Record, Hits Eight Fans

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — In the tradition of show business, George Haines Jr. of Far Hills, N.J., left 'em laughing.

George is a spindly, hollow-cheeked young man of 23 whose greatest golf achievement before this year was playing the No. 2 position on the University of Pennsylvania team.

No one was more astounded than George when he qualified for the National Open. He took his first golf lesson in March.

People watched him swing and decided that the U.S. Golf Association ought to be given a saliva test. Or at least investigated by some Washington, D.C., bureau.

George teed off in the first round Thursday and set a new open record for hitting spectators.

Crowd Leaves

Employing one of the most gorgeous shanks ever seen in an Open, he beaned eight fans on the first six holes.

"Haines hit six fairways and eight spectators," a Rochester newspaper dutifully reported.

"I didn't hit anybody on the back nine," Haines said happily. "For some reason, the crowd all left."

Haines had a locker next to that of Al Geiberger, former PGA champion.

"I was thrilled with that," Haines reported. "I watched everything Geiberger did. When he went to the practice tee I went to the practice tee. I thought he might ask me to join his foursome."

Haines wound up and hit a drive. It went through Gelberger's legs. He hit another and it whizzed past Geiberger's ear.

"Geiberger picked up his bag and left," the Penn graduate said. "He abandoned a whole batch of balls."

Doesn't Buy Balls

Later, Bob Goalby, Charles Coody and several others came to the practice hitting area and took seats on a bench.

Haines began hitting some curves which came perilously close to the seated pros. They all left in haste.

"They left about three dozen balls," Haines said. "I don't have to buy many balls."

Although from a well-off family, Haines played in a shaggy gray sweater full of moth holes.

"Fred McLeod stole it in the 1903 Open and passed it down to me," he lied. Actually, it's a lucky sweater.

After finishing his first round, Haines was reading off his score card to USGA Asst. Director P. J. Boatright in the tent at the 18th green.

"Four-four-four," he said.

"Wait a minute," corrected Boatright, "didn't you get a five on the 18th."

"Yeah,' Haines replied. "I just wanted to see if you were alert."

GROUND WAS BROKEN recently for improvements at the Holy Name High School athletic field which will give the school a lighted football field in time for the 1968 gridiron opener Aug. 31 against Iron Mountain. Joining in the ceremony were, from left, John Butrymowicz, athletic director; Brother Mark, boys department principal; Mrs. Eugene Verhamme, secretary-treasurer of the project; Joe Bal, project chairman, and Walt Snyder, project director. Lights will be installed next month. Grass already has been planted and a sprinkling system installed. Stationery bleachers seating over 1,000 and portable bleachers for another 500 or 600 fans will give the field a seating capacity of over 1,600. A scoreboard for the field has been ordered. Dedication ceremonies conducted by the Most Rev. Charles A. Salatka, bishop of the Marquette Catholic Diocese, are planned in August. The project is financed by the Holy Name Booster Club through donations and subscriptions. (Lee's Studio photo).

USC Unbeaten Entering Finals

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Southern California takes a perfect tourney record against Southern Illinois in the College World Series finals tonight because Bob Vaughn, the team's forgotten ace, came off the injury list with a shutout.

If USC goes on to its fifth NCAA baseball crown, Vaughn's 2-0 six-hitter over North Carolina State Friday night will be the key to the title.

It enabled Coach Rod Dedeaux to come back with rested pitching rotation, starting with left-hander Bill Lee, the ace of the staff the past month with a 6-0 record and 1.40 earned run mark.

Southern Illinois also is ready with a rested rotation, starting with Jerry Petzhold, sophomore lefty who beat Harvard 2-1 in 12 innings Tuesday. But SIU must win tonight and again Monday to claim the championship. If USC wins tonight, it's all over.

In the hotel lobby friday afternoon, Dedeaux told a newsman, "Vaughn can't pitch—he's had a lot of arm trouble."

Actually, much of Vaughn's soreness left him in batting practice Thursday and the coach was hoping he could start, but hadn't told him.

"About 3 o'clock this afternoon, coach asked, 'Can you chuck it up tonight? and I said, 'You bet,'" Vaughn said after the game.

Southern Illinois, a first-round loser to NC State, bombed a werry St. John's staff for 20 hits and eliminated the New York team 15-0, the most lopsided shutout in series history. Howard Nickason pitched a three-hitter for SIU.

Harrelson Rips Three Homers:

Wert's Blast Saves Tigers

By The Associated Press

Ken Harrelson turned on three times as much power as Don Wert, but he couldn't have short-circuited Cleveland more completely than Wert did the Chicago White Sox.

Wert, a little slower pulling the switch, waited until the 14th inning before blasting his seventh home run that brought the American League-leading Detroit Tigers a 6-5 victory over the White Sox Friday night.

Harrelson held off until only the fifth inning before beginning a barrage of three consecutive homers that drove in seven runs and surged the Boston Red Sox by the Indians 7-2.

The rest of the league's hitters remained mostly grounded as Minnesota trimmed Baltimore 2-1 on infield hits, infield outs and a wild pitch and errors helped California past Washington 2-0 and the New York Yankees by Oakland 5-4 in 10 innings.

Wert, not noted as a power hitter at 5-foot-9, 165 pounds and only six homers all of last season, kept the juice flowing through the red-hot Tigers by wiping out the White Sox as the first hitter in the 14th.

The victory was the fifth straight and 10th in 11 games as the Tigers expanded their league lead to 6½ games over Baltimore.

They almost burned themselves out in the 13th after taking a 5-4 lead against loser Bob Priddy, 0-3, on Bill Freehan's run-scoring hit. Luis Aparicio beat out a hit for the Sox in the 13th, stole second, took third on a sacrifice and scored on an infield out, and Chicago had the winning run on second base before Detroit retired the side.

The Tigers got into extra innings in the first place when Earl Wilson, making his first start since injuring a heel May 24, capped a four-run uprising in the fifth inning with a three-run homer.

The White Sox had taken a 4-0 lead with a brief and surprising show of power as Tom McCraw hit a three-run homer.

Harrelson, a 6-2, 190-pounder who hit 12 homers in part-time duty last season, has really turned on the voltage this year by blasting 13 homers with 37 runs batted in.

He struck out and grounded out his first two times at bat against Cleveland as Boston fell behind 1-0, but then he ignited, blasting two-and three-run homers in the fifth and sixth innings off Luis Tiant, 9-5. He belted another with a man on in the eighth off Eddie Fisher in his last time at bat, making it easy for Dick Ellsworth, 5-4, who coasted with a five-hitter.

Minnesota ended a six-game losing streak, although the Orioles' Tom Phoebus, 5-6, allowed only two infield hits in his six innings. Cesar Tovar beat out one of them in the first inning, stole second, took third on a grounder and scored on a wild pitch. Tony Oliva walked in the fourth, reached third as Ted Uhlaender's line drive hit Phoebus and scored on a force play.

Jim Roland, making his first start in nearly four years, gave one hit in 5 1-3 innings and got the victory with relief from Al Worthington and Ron Perranoski.

George Brunet, 6-6, fashioned a six-hitter for California and the Angels converted eighth-inning errors by Mike Epstein and Bernie Allen into runs off loser Joe Coleman, 4-6.

The Yankees helped Oakland to a 3-0 lead on errors by Jake Gibbs and Mickey Mantle, but ruined the A's try for a fourth straight shutout with an unearned run of their own. Joe Pepitone tied the score with a two-run homer.

But the Yankees needed more help in the eighth when Mantle walked, stole second and right fielder Reggie Jackson dropped Pepitone's pop fly to let in Mantle with the tying run. Then Mantle won the game in the 10th with a run-scoring single.

The teams are organized on a neighborhood basis and members of each team should choose an appropriate name.

The schedule, including sign-up and practice:

Slum Children Deprived Of An Adequate Education

LANSING (AP) — "Our kids are graduating every year like ignorant."

In these eight words, a black militant summed up for Gov. George Romney recently all the bitterness of Negroes who feel they are the victims of a lop-sided educational system.

Negro spokesmen in Michigan contend—and many white educators agree—that the state's schools are not providing an adequate and equal education for children of the slums.

The problem, however, is not one that affects just Negroes and other racial minorities.

"It is important to note that white students in our lower-class communities share educational inequities with the great proportion of our Negro students," says Rita Scott, educational specialist for Michigan's Civil Rights Commission.

Means Debated

The need for action generally is acknowledged by most educators. The means is open to debate.

Interwoven and interdependent, educators say, are education, jobs and housing—the traditional civil rights Big Three. For many ghetto-dwellers they form a vicious triangle.

With inadequate schooling, a man faces limited employment opportunities, they point out. With an inadequate wage, he can't afford to move out of the slums, open housing laws or not. And forced to live in a ghetto, the children of the poor often are the victims of an inferior quality of education in segregated schools.

The debate among educators centers around the question of whether priority should be given to desegregation efforts or to improving the quality of teaching and school facilities in the slums.

Meet Resistance

In Michigan, both approaches are being attempted.

And both have met with resistance.

In Lansing, a controversial school cross-busing system was challenged in court by a group of white parents.

The plan, aimed at relieving overcrowded conditions and creating racial balance in city high schools, would have involved busing some 150 Negro and white students.

A three-judge panel of the Ingham County Circuit Court recently upheld an injunction restraining the Lansing Board of Education from compelling students to transfer from one high school to another on the basis of race.

"Discrimination cannot be used either for or against a person," said the court. "It is not permitted in either direction."

The court added, however, that students could be transferred on the basis of geography and not race.

Busing Discussed

Busing of children from predominantly Negro areas to schools in other parts of the city also is under discussion in Grand Rapids and other Michigan communities.

Under one Grand Rapids proposal, costing an estimated $380,000, busing would be on the basis of availability of classrooms and would integrate nearly all schools from the third grade up.

The plan has the support of some civil rights leaders, but not all Negroes support the idea of integration.

Gerald Brown, a Black Power advocate, contends that Grand Rapids should forget about integrated schooling as the solution to unequal educational opportunities.

"Let's have all-black schools, with all-black administrators, with all-black teachers, coaches and counselors," he says. "Let's also have the best possible compensatory education programs available."

Inferior Schools

Such black nationalist views are held by only a small minority of the Negro community, according to leaders of long-established civil rights organizations.

But many educators, black and white, agree that schools in the center of the state's larger cities where Negroes are concentrated frequently fail to produce graduates as literate as their counterparts in other city schools.

"Many, if not most, Negro students attend inferior schools," says Burton Gordin, executive director of the Michigan Civil Rights Commission.

"They are inferior in terms of the buildings, which are usually older and inadequately equipped," he says. "They are inferior in terms of the teaching staff, which oftentimes has a higher proportion of inexperienced or substitute teachers who are educationally unequipped to do the job that needs to be done."

Neediest Get Least

Gordin says the curriculum of the inner-city school frequently does not meet the requirement of children whose needs are greater than those of children of middle-class suburban white communities.

"In short," he adds, "in too many cases the kids who needs the most are getting the least."

The New Detroit Committee, set up after last July's riot to coordinate programs aimed at eliminating racial tensions, has come out in favor of the principle of unequal educational opportunity — but in a different sense.

The committee defines this approach as one which will provide students with differing degrees of educational help, with the most help going to those who have the greatest need.

Recreation Will Open On Monday

The summer recreation program, under the direction of Don Pfotenhauer, will get under way Monday with the opening of the recreation building.

The first week will be taken up with the organization and practice games in soft ball and all those who wish to play are asked to contact Mr. Pfotenhauer for a time. Checkers, pool, pingpong, horse shoe, tennis and other individual games will also begin on Monday.

Pfotenhauer said the usual special events will again be scheduled this summer, campouts for boys and girls, the fish derby, and a watermelon feed.

The beach is not open at this time but guards are on the beach cleaning the area. Frank Stupak is the head life guard, assisted by Jo Maniaci and Steve Nolan. The schedule for swimming lessons will be announced at a later date.

Rock

Product Of Year

In recognition of Michigan Week, Marquete County gave Product of the Year Awards in three categories. Product of the Year in agriculture was awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Waino Bakka of Rte. 1, Rock for their processing of balsam fir garland roping for Christmas decorations. Mr. and Mrs. Bakka began their business venture in the fall of 1966 and they produce garland roping for decoration purposes, primarily during the holiday season. Major markets are in lower Michigan for street roping and flagpoles. Most of the labor is piece work and branches are taken from the lower 15 feet of standing balsam. Current plans are for checking other species of trees for processing.

Legion Officers

The Legion Post 599 of Rock met on Monday, June 10 and the following slate of officers was elected for the coming year: Waino Alto, commander; Leo Laitinen, adjutant; Les Larson, finance officer; Les Maki, service officer; Ed Ahlgren, historian; Salo Ruotsala, sergeant at arms; Paul Johnson, first vice commander; Jim Niemela, second vice commander; Francis Trombly, chaplain.

Joint installation night with the Legion Auxiliary is tentatively set for July 13.

Ed Ahlgren and Leo Laitinen are delegates to the Legion convention to be held in Ishpeming on June 20-22. The Rock School band has been invited to participate in the parade.

Boy's State

Rodney Kivioja, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Kivioja of Rock left Tuesday for East Lansing to attend Boy's State, June 12-19. He is president of the Junior Class and active in sports and band at the Rock School. His trip is sponsored by the Rock American Legion Post 599 and the Rock Lions Club.

Big Lakes Level Controls Asked

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Alewives and lake levels were among the topics considered Thursday at the 12th semiannual convention of the Great Lakes Commission at Sault Ste. Marie.

The convention continues Friday with favorable action expected on many of the recommendations formulated Thursday by various committees. The commission is an advisory agency serving the eight Great Lakes states in regional water resources matters.

The commission's water resources committee recommended that the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers control water levels in Lakes Huron and Michigan through a series of regulating gates in the St. Clair River. The report suggested the Army abandon their previous proposal to regulate the river by means of fixed underwater concrete dams.

The proposed gates would be built at the head of the river near Port Huron and would probably extend into the river from both U.S. and Canadian shores. As proposed the gates could be raised from the water to allow high water or ice to pass through. The gates would not close off the channel. There was no estimate of cost.

In another report the Fisheries and Wildlife Committee said a $500,000 project to skim dead alewives from the surface of Lake Michigan is ready to begin as soon as the fish begin to die.

Cost of the skimming operation will be shared by Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin and the federal Water Pollution Control Commission.

The fish die in great numbers beginning about the middle of June, following their spawning period. The bodies have ruined beaches in past summers.

The fish will be skimmed by tugs pulling mile-wide nets. Another approach to the problem is to stock Lake Michigan with trout and salmon which feed on the alewives.

The Seaway Navigation and Commerce Committee issued a report criticizing what it termed the lack of control over Great Lakes pilots operating foreign ships.

Reuther Urges Crime Bill Veto

DETROIT (AP)—United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther has asked President Johnson to "help restore the balance of sanity in the country" by vetoing the omnibus crime bill passed by Congress this week.

"This bill was written in fear and based on fear," Reuther said. "As a free people, we are capable of dealing forcibly with the threat of crime without threatening our basic freedoms."

The bill allows government wiretapping without a court order under certain circumstances, reverses several Supreme Court rulings on the rights of the accused, and restricts the mail order sale of handguns.

Reuther said the bill "undermines the constitutional rights of any citizen suspected of a crime" and authorizes "wiretapping and electronic eavesdropping on a scale unprecedented in breadth and lack of regulation."

Beats Johnson

GRANITE CITY, Ill. (AP) — Mayor Donald Partney outpolled President Johnson in recent Illinois primary in write-in votes at Granite City for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Partney got six write-in votes. Johnson got four votes.

State Police Get U.S. Grant For Voice Research

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State Police have received a $146,509 grant from the U.S. Justice Department for research in the new field of voice identification.

Michigan State Police was the first department in the country to receive the electronic equipment for voice identification.

The unit makes a visual record of the voice, which can be checked with another voice record, much the same as fingerprints are compared.

This technique is especially useful for investigation in cases where unidentified voices are a major clue—such as extortions, kidnappings and obscenity cases involving telephone calls from unknown persons.

Col. Fredrick Davids, State Police director, termed the possibilities of voice identification as a major tool of law enforcement "most promising."

The initial grant will cover the first phase of a study to be made from June 1968, through May 1969. It is expected additional funds will be provided.

In Memoriam

Erickson

In loving memory of our beloved husband, father, son and brother, John Ellwood Erickson Jr., who died one year ago today, June 15, 1967.

Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear;
'Tis sad, but true, we wonder why
The best are always the first to die.
Even death has its wonderful mission.
Though it robs us of those we love;
It draws us from our surroundings
To long for the meeting above.
The flowers we place upon your grave,
May wither and decay,
But love for you who sleep beneath
Will never fade away.

Sadly Missed By
The John Ellwood Erickson Jr. Family

Big Lakes Level Controls Asked

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Alewives and lake levels were among the topics considered Thursday at the 12th semiannual convention of the Great Lakes Commission at Sault Ste. Marie.

The convention continues Friday with favorable action expected on many of the recommendations formulated Thursday by various committees. The commission is an advisory agency serving the eight Great Lakes states in regional water resources matters.

The commission's water resources committee recommended that the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers control water levels in Lakes Huron and Michigan through a series of regulating gates in the St. Clair River. The report suggested the Army abandon their previous proposal to regulate the river by means of fixed underwater concrete dams.

The proposed gates would be built at the head of the river near Port Huron and would probably extend into the river from both U.S. and Canadian shores. As proposed the gates could be raised from the water to allow high water or ice to pass through. The gates would not close off the channel. There was no estimate of cost.

In another report the Fisheries and Wildlife Committee said a $500,000 project to skim dead alewives from the surface of Lake Michigan is ready to begin as soon as the fish begin to die.

Cost of the skimming operation will be shared by Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin and the federal Water Pollution Control Commission.

The fish die in great numbers beginning about the middle of June, following their spawning period. The bodies have ruined beaches in past summers.

The fish will be skimmed by tugs pulling mile-wide nets. Another approach to the problem is to stock Lake Michigan with trout and salmon which feed on the alewives.

The Seaway Navigation and Commerce Committee issued a report criticizing what it termed the lack of control over Great Lakes pilots operating foreign ships.

Reuther Urges Crime Bill Veto

DETROIT (AP)—United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther has asked President Johnson to "help restore the balance of sanity in the country" by vetoing the omnibus crime bill passed by Congress this week.

"This bill was written in fear and based on fear," Reuther said. "As a free people, we are capable of dealing forcibly with the threat of crime without threatening our basic freedoms."

The bill allows government wiretapping without a court order under certain circumstances, reverses several Supreme Court rulings on the rights of the accused, and restricts the mail order sale of handguns.

Reuther said the bill "undermines the constitutional rights of any citizen suspected of a crime" and authorizes "wiretapping and electronic eavesdropping on a scale unprecedented in breadth and lack of regulation."

Beats Johnson

GRANITE CITY, Ill. (AP) — Mayor Donald Partney outpolled President Johnson in recent Illinois primary in write-in votes at Granite City for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Partney got six write-in votes. Johnson got four votes.

State Police Get U.S. Grant For Voice Research

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State Police have received a $146,509 grant from the U.S. Justice Department for research in the new field of voice identification.

Michigan State Police was the first department in the country to receive the electronic equipment for voice identification.

The unit makes a visual record of the voice, which can be checked with another voice record, much the same as fingerprints are compared.

This technique is especially useful for investigation in cases where unidentified voices are a major clue—such as extortions, kidnappings and obscenity cases involving telephone calls from unknown persons.

Col. Fredrick Davids, State Police director, termed the possibilities of voice identification as a major tool of law enforcement "most promising."

The initial grant will cover the first phase of a study to be made from June 1968, through May 1969. It is expected additional funds will be provided.

Newsman Honored

DETROIT (AP) —Associated Press newsman Lawrence J. Paladino of Detroit Friday was awarded the Army Commendation Medal for meritorious service for his tour in Vietnam. Paladino was a paratrooper in the 503rd Infantry of the 173rd Airborn Brigade from May, 1965 to May, 1966. He has been with the AP since December, 1967.

In Memoriam

Erickson

In loving memory of our beloved husband, father, son and brother, John Ellwood Erickson Jr., who died one year ago today, June 15, 1967.

Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear;
'Tis sad, but true, we wonder why
The best are always the first to die.
Even death has its wonderful mission.
Though it robs us of those we love;
It draws us from our surroundings
To long for the meeting above.
The flowers we place upon your grave,
May wither and decay,
But love for you who sleep beneath
Will never fade away.

Sadly Missed By
The John Ellwood Erickson Jr. Family
